

Castro Links U. S. Naval Officials With Rebel Band

Claims Guantanamo Authorities Connected With Eastern Cuba Plot

Havana.—(AP)—Prime Minister Fidel Castro today charged U. S. authorities at Guantanamo naval base were connected with counter-revolutionary plotters in eastern Cuba.

Castro said eastern Cuban plotters are trying to make a revolutionary leader out of Manuel Beaton, a former captain in Castro's army who heads a rebel band in the Sierra Maestra.

Castro made the charge in an interview aboard a plane bringing him to Havana from eastern Cuba, where the prime minister last week directed a search for Beaton and his band.

Castro called Beaton "a vulgar delinquent." Beaton escaped from prison in Havana, where he was held on a charge of killing one of Castro's army officers. Beaton said the charge was a frame-up.

"American authorities at the naval base," Castro said, "know of these (counter-revolutionary) activities and are connected with them."

Names No Names
The prime minister named no officer or groups of officers at the big base the United States leases from Cuba in Oriente province.

But Castro insisted U. S. military planes had been flying over the mountainous region where Beaton has taken refuge with a small group of followers.

Nevertheless, Castro declared that "problems between the United States and Cuba still can be solved," adding he personally is willing to talk to anyone in the interest of promoting understanding between the two countries.

However, he hedged slightly.

Study Latest Space Failure

Capsule Refuses to Leave Orbit After Successful Firing

Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif.—(AP)—Air force scientists studied radio messages from space today, hoping to learn why 300 pounds of instruments didn't come back to them when they called.

The instrument-laden capsule of the Discoverer satellite was supposed to drop out of orbit and descend near Hawaii. C119 flying boxcars were waiting to snag its parachute on trapezes slung beneath their fuselages.

Instead, it stayed in orbit. The capsule separated from the rocket when scientists signaled it to do so Saturday afternoon.

It Separated
"We know it separated okay," Lt. Col. Lee Battle, director of the Discover project system said yesterday. "There was a rocket on it—called a retro-rocket—which was to fire ahead, opposite to the direction it was traveling, to slow it down so it would drop out of orbit."

"We know the retro-rocket fired. But we don't know yet why it didn't come down."

The capsule sent out radio messages as it sped high over Hawaii, apparently following the 19-foot second-stage rocket which had helped carry it aloft from this big missile base on Friday.

Tax Grace Period Ends at Midnight

Washington.—(AP)—Today marks the end of a 3-day grace period granted the 60 million Americans who file income tax returns. All returns must be filed by midnight tonight.

The regular deadline is April 15 but was extended this year because it coincided with Good Friday, a legal holiday in 13 states.

The deadline also will be postponed again in 1961 and 1962. April 15 will fall on a weekend in both years, so the deadlines will be extended to April 17, 1961, and April 18, 1962.

De Gaulle Off For Trip to U.S., Canada, West Indies

The Coast Guard icebreaker Eastwind presents a striking silhouette amid icebergs as last minute cargo was delivered by helicopter and land craft at the navy's Hallett station in Antarctica. These supplies must last through the long winter. The Eastwind arrived in Boston last week.

French Leader Scheduled To Huddle With Ike on Western Aims at Summit

Paris.—(AP)—President Charles de Gaulle flew off to the new world today on a 14,000 mile trip to Canada, the United States and French possessions in the West Indies.

The first stop for de Gaulle's special 707 jetliner is Ottawa for the beginning of a 4-day Canadian visit. The 17-day trip, the longest foreign tour since he took power two years ago, will include stops at Quebec, Montreal, Toronto, Washington, New York, San Francisco and New Orleans.

It was a bright spring day and the weatherman predicted equally pleasant weather for the transatlantic flight. De Gaulle's wife, Yvonne, Maurice Couve de Murville and other top government aides are accompanying the president.

Rests For Trip

The 69-year-old president spent the Easter holiday at his country home resting for the grueling trip and polishing the speeches he will make. He will deliver most of them from memory, for de Gaulle is bothered by bad eyesight and hates to read texts in public.

This will mark the third official foreign visit by de Gaulle since becoming president. He has visited Italy and earlier this month scored a personal triumph on a state visit to Britain.

De Gaulle left behind him a worsening domestic farm crisis, a threat of demonstrations by discontented miners and increasing military activity by rebels in Algeria.

Premier Michel Debre will have to face alone opposition to his policies when the national assembly reconvenes April 26. Deputies are angry.

Mother Who Lost Eight Children in Childbirth Dies in Childbirth

Sigourney, Iowa.—(AP)—A mother, who lost her eight children in a car-train collision in 1956, died in childbirth at a Sigourney hospital today.

Mrs. Ruth Hammes, 41, was the only survivor of the Oct. 25 accident at a railroad grade crossing near their farm home. She was driving her five oldest children to school at the time and the three youngest ones had accompanied her.

Since that tragic morning Mrs. Hammes and her husband, Richard, 49, a farmer, had started a new life. She gave birth to a son, Myron, on Jan. 15, 1958, and this would have been their second child.

Mrs. Hammes died at the same hospital where the last of her eight children passed away after the accident. The unborn child also was dead.

Another Johnson supporter, Sen. Robert C. Byrd (D-W.Va.), recently suggested that followers of Johnson and Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo) vote for Humphrey in an attempt to stop Kennedy.

Tito Sees Threat In German Plans

Belgrade.—(AP)—President Tito today blasted West Germany's plan to set up military bases in Spain and urged that such a move be curbed before a new war breaks out.

Tito issued the call at a congress of the communist-dominated socialist alliance, which claims 61 million Yugoslav members.

South Africa Work Stoppage Called Off for Next 24 Hours

Government Mobilizes All Police Personnel for Test of Strength

Johannesburg, South Africa.—(AP)—With Easter Monday a holiday for most South Africans, start of the week-long Negro work stoppage called by the outlawed African national congress was delayed 24 hours.

Police reported all quiet in Johannesburg and African townships surrounding this metropolis up to noon. Most stores were closed and the sunny streets were largely deserted.

Negroes employed in hotels and apartment houses appeared to be on the job, but many of these live in the buildings where they work or nearby. Their working was no indication of the sentiment of Africans in native townships.

In the first violence of the week, a group of Negroes attacked and seriously injured a Negro police sergeant on his way to work in Port Elizabeth. An attempt was made on another Negro policeman shortly after, but he resisted and escaped unharmed. Police arrested six Negro suspects.

The government mobilized all police forces throughout the nation for the first test of strength with the country's leading Negro political organization since it went underground.

Strong police patrols kept a watch on Negro settlements around major urban areas, but there were no immediate reports of any trouble.

Hundreds of thousands of Negroes who work in the big cities and environs were caught in the political squeeze. The government warned anyone staying away from work faced loss of their

Pope Voices Sorrow for Race Strife

Vatican City.—Pope John XXIII expressed sorrow in his Easter message for those suffering because of race or denial of their civil rights.

Addressing some 150,000 persons standing in the rain in the great square before St. Peter's Basilica, the 78-year-old pontiff called men to the peace of the risen Christ in a world plagued by racial intolerance.

In an obvious reference to the Negro's race problem, he said:

"And our sorrowing gaze turns also to the other children of God everywhere, suffering because of race or economic conditions, at once complex and giving reason for anxiety, or through the limitation on the exercise of their natural and civil rights."

The ruler of the Roman Catholic church put special emphasis on racial tolerance during holy week.

On Holy Thursday he performed the traditional ceremony of washing the feet of 13 persons, emulating Christ at the Last Supper. But for the first time those chosen included Negroes, a Japanese, West Indians and a Polynesian.

Nine Houses Burned When Barbecue Fire Leaps Out of Control

Oakland, Calif.—(AP)—Chester Larson burned some garden cuttings in his backyard barbecue pit yesterday and minutes later nine homes were ablaze.

Two homes, including Larson's, were destroyed, and total damage was estimated at $75,000 to $80,000.

Fire Capt. H. M. Searing was among the 38 men who battled the flames which at first were confined to two homes which were destroyed in the exclusive wooded residential district. While he fought the fire, he saw his own home across the street catch fire.

Canada, Soviet Union Sign 3-Year Trade Pact

Moscow.—(AP)—Canada and the Soviet Union today signed a new 3-year trade pact under which the Russians will spend two dollars in Canada for every Canadian dollar spent here.

The Soviet government promised to purchase $25 million worth of goods each year, including 200,000 tons of wheat, provided Canada buys $12 million worth of Soviet products annually.

See Chance of Major Upset In Louisiana

Republican Given Hope of Capturing Governor's Race

New Orleans.—(AP)—Voter apathy and disgruntled Democrats give Francis Grevemberg a fighting chance to stage Louisiana's greatest political upset and make him the state's first Republican governor in 88 years.

The issue will be decided at the general election polls tomorrow.

Voters can choose between Grevemberg, former Governor Jimmie H. Davis, the Democratic nominee, and states rights Kent Courtney, a New Orleans publisher.

Davis backers concede that Grevemberg could win the election. They fear only about half of the 900,000 who voted in the primary will turn out. The primary featured a red hot battle between Davis and New Orleans mayor Desseps Morrison.

Grevemberg, a former state police superintendent, ran as a Democrat four years ago and finished fourth in a field of five with 62,000 votes. His campaign then was much more vigorous than this one.

Police Hold Suspect

Find Kidnaped Infant Safe Near Family Home

Sydney, Mines, N.S.—(AP)—

An 18-month-old boy, snatched from his crib by a burly young man, was found safe and unharmed in a field behind the family home today.

Police said they had picked up a suspect but gave no details immediately.

No explanation for the kidnapping was apparent. The child's father is a telephone company employee and the family has only modest means.

Good Condition
A store clerk, Jean MacKenzie, found Russell MacKenzie as she was walking to work.

A doctor examined the baby and said he was a little cold but otherwise in good condition.

"Our prayers have been answered," said the boy's mother. "Oh, my God, my God."

The dark-haired baby was found at 7:10 a.m. It was not known how long he had been in the field. Persons at the scene said he was not there three hours earlier when police and the father searched the area.

An unidentified man stole the chubby, brown-eyed baby from his crib shortly after midnight after knocking at the door of the MacKenzie home

Boat Trailer Crashes Window; Glass Narrowly Misses Boy

New London.—A boat trailer, which broke away from the car towing it, crashed into the living room of the Elwood Mathewson home, showering the room with plate glass fragments which narrowly missed 3-year-old Peter Mathewson Saturday.

Several big pieces of the double plate glass apparently missed Peter's head by inches as they cut into the davenport across the room. Peter was watching television. He was unhurt.

Mrs. Mathewson, Pershing road, said she was working in the kitchen when she heard what sounded like an explosion followed by the sound of breaking glass.

Raymond C. Schimke, 315 Wallace street, told Mathewson, who was not home at the time of the accident, that the safety chains apparently had become unfastened and the trailer broke loose from the car and ran into the house.

Schimke told police that he was driving northeast when the accident occurred.

Damage to the house and furnishings was estimated at about $900. The window alone costs about $400. Flying glass cut the drapes to ribbons, cut the cocktail table, scratched the television set, cut the divan, damaged the carpeting and broke the sash.

A Raging Fire That Ruined the 14,000-seat grandstand of the Memphis, Tenn., Chicks baseball park Sunday night flared high above the 14-story Baptist hospital just across the street. Hundreds of patients were moved to safer sections while 30 firetrucks and hundreds of firemen brought the blaze under control.

Leader Sees Legal Basis for Sit-Down

Rev. Luther King Cites Ruling by Supreme Court as Justification of Negro Demonstrations in South

Atlanta — A Negro integration leader says sit-down demonstrations are dramatizing the position of the Negro in the south and predicts they will be upheld legally.

The expressions of confidence in the protests came from the Rev. Martin Luther King, Jr., at the start of the 11th week of the Negro campaign against segregated lunch counters.

The 31-year-old Atlanta Baptist appeared on a television program in Washington Sunday night shortly after a Negro college student conference at Raleigh, N. C., laid the groundwork for formation of a south-wide organization.

King conceded the sit-ins might violate local laws. But he said, "in breaking local laws we are really seeking to dignify the law" as set forth in the 1954 U. S. Supreme court decision on public school segregation.

The man who led the successful bus boycott in Montgomery, Ala., in 1956, reasoned that if and when the local laws against sit-ins reach the Supreme court they will be held to be in violation of the basic guarantees of the constitution.

King said he felt both the congress and the president could and should do more to hasten integration.

Easter Rally

This statement was echoed in the findings and recommendations of the Easter weekend Raleigh conference attended by 142 students from 11 southern states and the District of Columbia.

The student steering committee said in a statement there was a possibility President Eisenhower might go to Africa this fall. The committee said:

"We feel that before going to Africa, the president should lend the prestige of his office to the solution of the racial problems in this country and thus he shall be even better prepared for his visit to Africa."

The students set up a temporary coordinating committee which will meet in Atlanta next month. On the committee will be one representative from each of 14 states as well as representatives from various student groups. King and the Rev. J. M. Lawson, Jr., of Nashville, Tenn., were named as advisers.

Not An Auto Was in Sight as thousands of pedestrians promenaded along New York's Fifth avenue in front of St. Patrick cathedral in the Easter parade. This is a view looking north from 49th street. An entirely different Easter parade scene in the Fox Cities can be seen on page A-12.

Urged to Try Adjustments for Heart Disorders

When statistics show that heart trouble is the leading cause of death, and we note daily in our offices remarkable recoveries from serious cases of heart trouble; we chiropractors would like to cry from the house tops to encourage those suffering from heart ailments to at least give Chiropractic a trial.

Dr. G. E. Hall of the University of Toronto substantiates the Chiropractic principle. He admits, after long research, that sudden death from heart disease is probably caused by reflex nerve action of certain sets of nerves.

The blood supply to the heart muscles, the heart rate, and the coordination of the heart with the rest of the body is regulated through the central nervous system. It is for this reason that vertebral misalignments can cause interference with the transmission of nervous energy to the heart and result in many forms of heart trouble. Unless an extensive portion of the heart is diseased, Chiropractic adjustments are beneficial.

Nehru Seeks to Quiet Objectors To Chou Visit

Demonstrators to Continue Agitation Over Red Premier

New Delhi, India — Prime Minister Nehru last night tried to pacify Indians protesting the visit of Chou En-lai by assuring them the talks are aimed at getting the Chinese communists to withdraw from Indian territory.

But leaders of the Hindu Mahasabha party declared their intention to go ahead with a symbolic "black flag" demonstration before the Indian presidential palace when the Red Chinese premier arrives here tomorrow.

Chou will fly here from Rangoon, the first stop on his fence-mending tour of three China neighbors—Burma, India and Nepal. He will spend six days in New Delhi for talks with Nehru on strained Indian-Chinese relations, hinging on their border dispute.

Austere Program

The Indian government has arranged an austere program stripped to bare courtesies required by protocol, with no welcoming speeches or triumphant drives through the capital.

Chou's visit has aroused bitterness, but all non-communist opposition parties except the Hindu Mahasabha have said they will bow to Nehru's plea to treat the Red Chinese leader as an honored guest.

About 5,000 Indians shouting anti-Chinese slogans marched through downtown New Delhi yesterday, demonstrating before Nehru's residence.

Four leaders of the parade—part of nationwide protest demonstrations organized by right-wing Hindu jana sangh—presented the prime minister a memorandum declaring:

"There can be only one subject for the talks, namely, when does China propose to withdraw its aggression armies?"

Rock 'N' Roll Singer's Body to be Sent Home

London — The body of American rock 'n' roll singer Eddie Cochran, killed in an auto wreck, will probably be flown home to Hollywood Wednesday.

On inquest will be held tomorrow.

Three persons accompanying the 21-year-old singer were injured when a blowout sent their hired car careening into a lamp post. The crash occurred early Sunday as Cochran was hurrying to London airport to fly to Los Angeles after a 13-week British tour.

Singer Gene Vincent, 25, was still in serious condition but

12 Doctors to Perform Heart Surgery on Girl

Bachelor Cabbie Assists Austrian Family Seeking Cure for Daughter

Dallas, Texas — A dozen doctors at Children's Medical center will try to repair the heart of a little girl today while her parents and a cab driver pray for success.

The cab driver is W. H. Henry, 30, a bachelor who befriended the family when he met them at a bus station last week.

Little Ruth Marie Cvetec has never had a normal heart. The corrective open surgery that doctors in Germany and Sweden told her parents could be done "only in America" may allow her a normal life.

Henry said the 3-year-old girl was born in Mexico City,

Nelson Plugs Withholding Tax Proposal

Raps GOP Senators For Killing His Payment Plan

Madison — Gov. Gaylord Nelson took notice of the deadline for state income tax filing today by putting in another plug for a withholding plan of payment.

Nelson said that if Republican senators had not killed his withholding plan nearly everyone in the state would have paid his bill and some would have a refund due.

"In addition," he said, "we would have spread the tax load by collecting from transient workers, from those who are defaulting on tax payments, and from those now evading their fair share of the tax burden."

Nelson claimed that every tax authority in the nation agrees that withholding is not only the most efficient way of collecting taxes, but also the easiest on both government and the taxpayer.

He added: "Wisconsin will have withholding too — as soon as the state senate acts on the basis of reason, rather than political — partisan obstructionism."

Trackless Trolley Hits Tavern in Milwaukee

Milwaukee — A trackless trolley bus carrying some 50 persons, many women headed downtown for Easter shopping, struck a car, veered across a sidewalk and crashed into a tavern Saturday afternoon. No one was injured seriously.

A total of 22 reported injuries. Thirteen were taken in ambulances to County Emergency hospital where they were treated and released. The other injured declined hospital treatment.

The bus collided with a car making a left turn on Milwaukee's near northside. The auto spun around and skidded about 100 feet. The bus jumped the curb and plowed into the window of the tavern.

5 Killed in Explosion Aboard Dutch Tanker

Gibraltar — Five crewmen were killed and three injured in an explosion aboard the Dutch tanker Pendrecht off Gibraltar today.

The 13,150-ton tanker out of Rotterdam was towed here by the Norwegian salvage tug Hercules after sending out an SOS.

Students Take Part in Riot Against Rhee

Scuffles Continue in Protest Over Korean Election

Seoul — Thousands of schoolboys hurled rocks and jeered police in three South Korean cities today in defiance of a government ban on demonstrations.

At least a dozen persons were reported injured in scuffles between police and students in Seoul, Pusan and Chongju.

The unbroken wave of demonstrations, now in its second week, posed a growing crisis for President Syngman Rhee's government, which the students accused of rigging the March 15 elections.

Seven ministers of Rhee's cabinet met in an emergency session to discuss the situation. Although the student marches were declared illegal, officials were reluctant to order harsh measures by police, who were accused of brutality during a series of election day riots at Masan, 220 miles south of Seoul.

In Seoul, several thousand boys with towels tied over their foreheads poured from the campus of Korea university and battled through small police lines to reach the downtown district.

Five hundred squatted until night on the pavement before the national assembly, denouncing the election and demanding release of comrades arrested on the march.

Wiley Calls for Manpower Needs in Space Defense

Washington — An overall study of manpower needs for defense in the space age was proposed today by Sen. Alexander Wiley, R-Wis.

"The space age — with its revolutionary developments — will have a great effect on our defense," Wiley said in a statement. He is a member of the senate space committee.

Wiley offered a resolution proposing to set up a special commission, similar to those on government reorganization headed by former President Herbert Hoover, to take "a whole 'new look' at our defense system."

He said it should study the military draft and its ability "to provide the manpower for a complex space-type defense."

Sen. Case Ends Fight For Seat in Hot GOP New Jersey Primary

Threat From Robert Morris Causes Interest in Tuesday's Election

Newark, N.J. — The publican senate race, David G. Dearborn of Elizabeth, is given no chance of winning.

New Jersey today with the incumbent, Clifford P. Case, in Washington and his opponent, Robert Morris, getting in some last minute handshakes around the state.

Voters of both parties will pick candidates tomorrow for the U. S. senate, house, county boards of freeholders and various other local and county offices.

They also will elect delegates to the two party conventions in July and members of their county party committees.

The Democrats have a contest in their senatorial primary, too. But Thorn Lord, the organization candidate, is considered an easy winner. His opponent is Richard M. Glassner, a Newark lawyer making a first try for office. Neither has campaigned hard.

Few Contests

Nor has the election of convention delegates generated much excitement. There are a few contests in the races for delegates and alternates. But whoever wins, the Republican delegates are expected to vote for Vice President Richard M. Nixon at their convention and the Democrats for Gov. Robert B. Meyner as a favorite son.

But for Robert Morris, today marks the end of a 5-month campaign to unseat Case. Morris has been active in public speaking around the state since he ran third in the 3-way GOP senatorial primary in 1958. Last Nov. 16 he announced formally he would try again for the senate.

Businessmen Hail Spring Trade Upturn

Auto Market Increase Boosts Stocks, Other Industries Brighten

BY SAM DAWSON
New York — (AP) — The first rustlings of spring are delighting winter weary and somewhat disillusioned businessmen.

How eager they are for any signs of a turn in business activities as well as the seasons is shown by the quick reaction to news that auto sales spurted upward at the end of March. This report from the industry that probably is being the most closely watched of all was credited with being enough to set off an almost general climb in stock prices.

Whether the spurt in auto sales was set off by special promotion schemes or by spring-inspired consumer interest is yet to be seen. All hands would like to think that it's a real spring sales climb that will whittle down fairly top-heavy inventories of new cars in dealers' hands.

Gas Stocks Drop

Another thing that may be more seasonal than significant but is none the less heartening is the report that gasoline stocks have dropped, implying that sales are on the upswing after the long winter. Motorists on the road help many industries that service and entertain them, as well as the gasoline stations themselves.

The oil industry also is taking heart in word that as the peak sales period draws to a close the carry over stocks of light fuel oil are the lowest in two years. The final blasts of winter, whatever plans they upset for many others, at least seem to have helped the fuel men dispose of their stocks to home owners.

Another sector of the oil industry also is profiting from the bad weather in March. Heavy fuel oil stocks were depleted largely because of distribution problems plus increased consumption. So producers can raise the price of this oil, which is used by factories, ships and utility power plants.

Spring has its lovely aspects for many oil companies.

Hard Sell

Merchants, especially clothing retailers, are pushing hard now to recapture some of the business they may have lost in the delayed arrival of spring weather. For once a late Easter is being praised instead of blamed for retail sales chances.

Spring always is a boon to the construction industry. And this time there's word that Uncle Sam may be ready to help things along.

Home builders who have complained that tight credit conditions hurt their business are greeting each daffodil with extra enthusiasm this year. Good weather is expected to reverse the decline in the starting of new homes in March.

At the same time general credit conditions have eased more than formerly expected.

Ease Payments

And now the federal housing administration says it is considering relaxing the down payment requirements on medium and higher priced homes. This isn't billed as a deliberate move to stimulate home building — and thus offset in part any sagging in some other parts of the economy. But it could help would-be home buyers considerably — and hence the industry that turns out the development homes.

On another home building front, F. W. Dodge corporation reports that a survey of 117 architectural firms in 25 cities shows they are designing 31 per cent more homes now than at this time last year. Its publication, Architectural Record, says that conventionally financed housing (without FHA or VA guarantees) has been little affected by tight credit or mortgage interest rates.

Fallout From A-Bombs Now Out of Skies

Secret Studies Show
Is Here, Not Coming

BY FRANK CAREY
Cleveland — Long hush hush studies have revealed that all but 10 to 15 per cent of the fallout from nuclear bomb tests of the last 15 years has fallen to the ground, it has been reported. Clearly indicating that whatever radioactive hazard may exist for man from tests already held, the die is now essentially cast, the report was prepared for the 137th national meeting of the American Chemical society. The figures, disclosed as developed principally from defense studies of the stratosphere, are in sharp variance with recent estimates of some scientists. The later estimates have figured that as much as one third of all the radioactive debris from bomb tests conducted by the nuclear powers still remains in the stratosphere and that the maximum level on the earth would not be achieved until two to four years from now.

Disclosure of the new figures was made by Dr. J. Lawrence Kulp of Columbia university at a news conference preceding an ACS symposium on radioactive fallout in relation to foods.

The society programmed the symposium as one designed to describe in detail the path of nuclear particles from bombs through the soil, plants, food animals, and milk into human bone and tissue.

Kulp told reporters that the new figures result from a department of defense study—kept secret for more than two years—which ultimately disclosed evidence that “there appear to be holes in the tropopause” through which radioactive debris can fall more quickly to the earth than previously estimated.

The tropopause is the layer of the atmosphere that lies below the stratosphere.

Encouraging Facts
Some other reports prepared for the symposium, and amplified at the news conference, disclosed some of the most encouraging facts yet uncovered on the fallout situation.

Researcher Ronald G. Menzel of the U.S. Department of Agriculture's research center at Beltsville, Md. reported that recent findings show that up to 20 per cent of the soil-absorbed strontium-90 fallout from atomic explosions is “locked within the soil” and is not available to plants which enter into man's food chain.

Previously, he said, it had been believed that inasmuch as most of strontium in fallout is soluble in water, it was all available to plants.

Strontium-90 is considered as potentially the most hazardous of all the radioactive products released in bomb explosions. This is because it could cause bone cancer and possibly leukemia if taken into the human body in sufficient quantities.

Various symposium reports brought out new findings that by far the greatest amount of fallout absorbed by plants is absorbed by the leaves rather than through the soil.

Less Hazards
Thus, it was indicated, if most of the fallout is already down — and no further tests were held—the future hazard to plants is lessened.

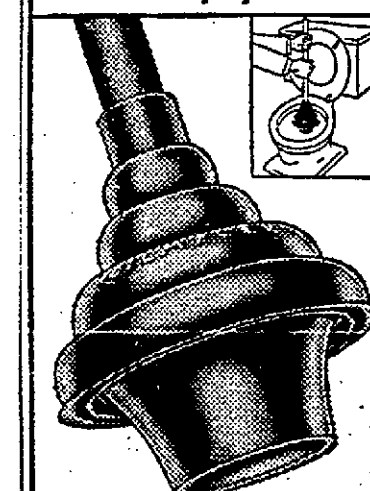

Further, as regards fallout in the soil, Dr. C. W. Christenson of the atomic energy commission's Los Alamos, New Mexico, scientific laboratory reported this:

That fallout reaching the soil is generally concentrated in the top few inches of the soil, whereas certain crops, such as lettuce, grass and alfalfa receive most of their nourishment from depths “relatively far below the zone of fallout contamination.”

Shiocton High Teacher Wins Summer Grant

Shiocton — Robert Lee, science teacher at Shiocton High school, has been awarded a $75 a week scholarship for six weeks at Pigeon Lake, Wis., this summer. The camp has been purchased by the Wisconsin state colleges for studies in the biological sciences. Awarding the scholarship was the state board of regents through the National Science foundation. Forty-five teachers will study at the camp.

South African Work Stoppage Called Off

jobs or even banishment to native reserves in the remote interior.

A failure of the work boycott would be interpreted as a setback for the ANC in its campaign to force an easing in the government's strict segregation policies and gain freedom for jailed Negro leaders.

Offer Protection
Police offered protection to Negroes going to work and against anyone trying to get them to stay home—either by persuasion or intimidation.

Most of the known ANC leaders have been jailed, but the thousands of strike pamphlets that flooded Johannesburg and other areas indicated effective underground machinery has been set up.

The Johannesburg Golden City Post, a Sunday paper for Negroes, said a large number of Africans had been arrested for distributing the stay-at-home leaflets.

There were other press reports that the government may seal South Africa's frontiers with three British protectorates—Swaziland, Basutoland and Bechuanaland—to prevent suspected government opponents from fleeing to asylum.

Steady Recovery
Prime Minister Hendrik F. Verwoerd was reported making a steady recovery from two bullet wounds in the head, and doctors said he would not suffer any permanent injury. Verwoerd was shot April 9 by a white British-born farmer.

Dr. H. W. Snyman, one of the surgeons attending the prime minister, said his senses are functioning normally and that his face will not be disfigured.

The bullet ricocheted inside Verwoerd's ear, the other lodged in his cheek, Dr. Snyman said. "An operation either on the wounds or to remove the bullets is not necessary. The bullets came to rest in soft parts and can do no further damage. They can be removed at a later and more convenient time."

Gen. Clark Names
British General Best
He Ever Served Under

Washington — Retired Army General Mark Clark says British General Harold Alexander was "the greatest soldier that I served under in World War II."

In a radio interview Sunday, Clark, now president of the Citadel Military college, was asked whom he considered his greatest commander.

Clark, noting it was a difficult question, said that he had served under General Eisenhower during the North African invasion in World War II and Eisenhower "had many qualities of leadership that I admired."

Clark added that he had served under Alexander in Italy. The British general, Clark said, "understood the problems that confronted Americans, and I understood the problems that confronted the British."

Clark said Alexander was "the man whom I really served under for a long time in combat... and I think he's the greatest soldier that I served under in World War II."

Winter Sneaks Back Into Fox Cities Area

Highway patrols throughout the Fox Cities area reported a rash of small accidents. Cars went off slippery roads or stalled in snow drifts.

Power Out

Sunny skies were left behind as travelers hit the north central portion of the state. Many were caught in spring coats and dresses.

The Wisconsin Michigan Power company reported some line trouble because of heavy, wet snow and high winds. A circuit from the Harrison street substation, serving the north shore of Lake Winnebago, went out twice Sunday. It first went out at 10:20 a.m. but was back in service at 10:40 a.m. It again went out at 11:20 a.m.

Another substation, serving Appleton south of Spencer street, reported loss of power because of lines whipping together as a result of heavy snow. Nine poles were reported blown down in the county.

Other Storms

Power company weather records show April snowstorms are nothing new here. April 7, 1859, sleet and snow fell. A half inch of snow fell April 24, 1858. Three inches of snow fell April 10, 1857. April 29, 1856, five inches of snow fell in near blizzard conditions. Snow fell as late as May 6 in 1854 and even a Memorial day is recorded. Snow covered lawn chairs and a few houses with screens on were a mute reminder of spring the week before.

Snowstorms hit Wyoming, Nebraska, the Dakotas, Iowa, northern Illinois and the eastern side of Lake Michigan.

Buildings Leveled

Tornadoes Saturday night wreaked havoc from Oklahoma northeastward into eastern Iowa. A half dozen twisters were sighted in north central and northeastern Oklahoma. At least 15 persons were injured when gale-force winds struck Tulsa.

A twister leveled buildings on six farms near Ottawa, Kan.

A small twister struck Paterdale, in southern Illinois. A family in Cheboygan, Mich., was routed from its home when high winds forced ice off Black lake 50 feet onshore and into the family's living room.

Police Seek Autopsy Of Mystery Baby

Salt Lake City — Police sought the required court permission today for an autopsy on the body of a 10-pound, red-haired baby boy whose body was mailed here last Tuesday from Dallas, Texas.

A doctor said preliminary checks indicated the boy might have been alive when he was wrapped in aluminum foil and placed in the box which bore the return name and address of Mary Sue Goss, 3522 Wycliff, Dallas, Texas.

Dallas police said Mrs. Goss, a widow of about 55, from remarks made yesterday that relations could be improved if he had a private meeting with President Eisenhower or Sec. of State Christian A. Herter.

Castro insisted he was only answering in the affirmative a question put to him by another correspondent. Asked if he was unwilling to discuss relations with Eisenhower or Herter, he replied: "I did not say that, but I want no misunderstanding of what I said."

Better Relations
Castro told Correspondent

Richard Bate of the Columbia Broadcasting system yesterday that such a meeting could result in better relations between the two countries.

Such a meeting also would mean a considerable boost in prestige for Castro, and it seemed most unlikely Eisenhower would give the idea serious consideration after Castro's numerous bitter attacks on U. S. policy. Nor did it seem likely Herter would see the Cuban leader after all the harsh things Castro has said about the secretary of state.

In Washington, state department press officer Lincoln White brushed off Castro's suggestion. He said it was surprising to him that the suggestion was made to a newsman and not to U. S. Ambassador Philip Bonsal, whom Castro has not seen since Bonsal returned to Cuba March 20.

Observers noted that Castro has the habit of throwing out such offhand remarks—perhaps to test reaction to them.

Castro, who has been leading a hunt for rebel guerrillas in the Sierra Maestra for the past 10 days, made the remark when he appeared at the mountain town of El Caney, to help dedicate a rural school.

Castro told newsmen the heavy concentration of regular troops in the east Cuban mountains was to help train militiamen there to hunt down insurgents, to give the regular combat training and to be on the alert for possible invasion landings.

Asked where such an invasion might be launched, Castro mentioned the Dominican Republic, then said, "and lately President Eisenhower and Herter have been making strong remarks against us."

It was then, Bate said, that Castro suggested a meeting with the president or secretary of state might prove fruitful.

Census Takers Get the Blues

For most people, taking of the census has gone off smoothly. It started with the delivery of printed forms to homes by mail carriers. The householder was expected to complete the forms and hold them in readiness for the arrival of the census taker. Thus, with the answers prepared in advance, the work was rather simple at three out of four homes. However, at every fourth house there was difficulty because the census taker carried a supply of blue forms, one of which was to be left at each fourth residence.

The blue form was somewhat longer and more complicated. News of this had been widely circulated and people were prepared to offer some resistance to acceptance of additional work. Instructions of the census takers were merely to leave the form and go on about their business. However, people felt they were being imposed upon merely because they lived in the fourth household on the census taker's route and attempted to refuse the papers. When that failed they insisted on making some sort of an argument. This was to no avail because the blue form is part of the official census and the householder is required to fill it out under the usual penalties of the law.

Census takers being normal human beings were inclined to sympathize with the householders and lost a good deal of time trying to get their cooperation. One census taker who found an illiterate person at her fourth household could see no use in leaving the form as provided in the instructions and attempted to give some assistance. This required a good deal of time and since there were other difficulties at still other households which also delayed the census taker, she soon found herself far behind in her work. Finally she complained that she had worked 90 hours for $79 which she said put the government in a position of paying less than the minimum wage of $1. per hour.

Nevertheless, the Census Bureau stood firmly behind its instructions which were to leave the blue blanks at every fourth household and move on.

An interesting thing to notice here is that the census taking gives everyone in the nation a chance for a clear view at government operations. They see bureaucracy in action. We do not mean this as a criticism of the Census Bureau. It is merely a fact. The method of taking the census, the rate of pay and all other details of this gigantic undertaking were worked out long in advance. The rules and regulations set up by the Census Bureau were made to conform to the law as drawn by Congress and in conformity with the money appropriated. Thus the regulations are to a large extent inflexible. That is what is so irritating about them to the census takers who feel they could improve the setup quite readily by applying common sense to various problems. They soon discover that working under a bureaucracy allows little leeway for change even if it should appear to be improvement.

But the people as well as the census takers may as well settle down to the fact that no one can change the rules at this stage of the game. As one census taker optimistically put it — something may be done about it for the next census. At the moment that is looking ahead to no less than 10 years but there is a possibility that ideas developed now might be used sooner. The information gathered by the Census Bureau is so important and so valuable to business and government that there is a possibility of having a census every five years in the future. This is a proposal which should be welcomed by everyone excepting, of course, those people in every fourth household who have been struggling with the blue forms.

Lincoln-Douglas Debates Via TV

The Lincoln-Douglas debates were a series of discussions on the issues of the day between Steven A. Douglas, senator from Illinois, a candidate for reelection on the Democratic ticket, and Abraham Lincoln, the Republican nominee for the U. S. Senate. These debates still are looked upon by politicians and students as one of the greatest campaign efforts in the history of the nation. There has been nothing like them although they took place more than 100 years ago and many efforts have been made to duplicate them.

Dr. Frank Stanton, president of the Columbia Broadcasting System, has indicated he would like to do something in the nature of the Lincoln-Douglas debates on TV but he is prevented by the present laws governing equal time to all candidates. Congress recently changed the law to permit television and radio stations to have candidates appear on regular news programs when the presentation of the news seems to require it without granting the same amount of time to their opponents. But it has done nothing that would permit the stations to give time to two of the candidates in a debate unless the stations would agree to give the same amount of time to all of the other candidates for that office.

If a television station or a network were to arrange a debate between the Republican and the Democratic candidates for the office of president, it is probable that as many as 115 million people could simultaneously see and hear the candidates discuss such important issues as our foreign affairs, the farm program, nuclear bomb testing, or our space program or perhaps all of the issues in a series of programs. But even though the public interest in such a program and the possible benefits from it are obvious, it is impossible under the present law. The law which it is proposed to change, provides that broadcasting stations need not give time to any of the candidates but if it does give time to one or more it must provide the same amount of time for all of the other candidates for that office. In the past there have been as many as 18 candidates for president qualified and entered on the ballot in one or more states. Obviously no station or network could obligate itself to give to each of these candidates time equivalent to that required for conducting anything like a debate.

Thus we have the law which is drawn as it is because members of Congress fear they might somehow be deprived of time on radio or TV which their opponents earned or were given by some friendly station operator.

However, the people of the nation are being deprived of the wonderful opportunity to learn about their candidates and to provide better government for themselves because their representatives in Congress are foolishly fearful that someday they will be so devoid of news interest as to be excluded from a station which is open to their opponents. No person who gives serious thought to the nature of news could support such reasoning.

Isn't Murder a Serious Matter?

Could the people of Wisconsin afford to have a murder suspect free among them merely because an attorney made a slip of the tongue in court? We are sure they could not. But apparently the people of Oklahoma can. At least they have one whether they can afford it or not. Willie Tom Walker was being tried for murder in the fatal beating of a transient last November. In his opening remarks the prosecuting attorney said, "We don't believe there was design and scheme to kill this man." He had meant to say "We do believe..."

The defense attorney pounced upon the misstatement and demanded acquittal on the grounds that the prosecuting attorney had contradicted the state's case. District Judge William L. Fogg agreed and directed the jury to acquit the prisoner. The result is that Willie Walker is free and no one knows what that may cost the people of Oklahoma.

We have made some inquiries as to how this matter would be handled in Wisconsin and have been assured that rule of common sense would prevail here. The prosecuting attorney would be permitted to correct his statement and the trial would then proceed. That strikes us as proper. No state, we believe, can really afford to have a man being tried for murder go free on such a frivolous pretext.

What Others are Saying

U. S., Canada See Rapid Expansion of Population

From The Scranton (Pa.) Times

Much has been written and said in recent months about the "population explosion." In its original use, the term applied generally to the underdeveloped countries where millions live in hunger, poverty and squalor because the food supply reportedly is not large enough to support them and unemployment is high.

The United States is having a minor explosion of its own in this field, with an increase of 30 million in the past 10 years to bring our current population to about 180 million. This gain has been marked by pronounced shifts of large blocs of our people. California and Florida have been growing rapidly. New Yorkers are fearful of a loss, to be shown in this year's decennial census, which may cost their state a few seats in Congress. Pennsylvania may be barely holding its own.

And the matter of population is now concerning our neighbor to the north, Canada. Premier Frost of Ontario, commenting on the proposal that the government cut down the influx of foreign capital, contended in a recent speech at Ottawa that this capital is needed in Canada because of its expanding population. But the population is not expanding as fast as he would like it.

He pointed out that "we have only 17,500,000 people occupying half a continent in a land-hungry world" and said that this lack of people is Canada's basic problem. The only remedy for it, Frost told his Ottawa audience, "is the large-scale immigration of land-hungry, opportunity-hungry people who are still to be found in great numbers in Britain and the countries of Western Europe."

The Victoria Times, an influential Canadian newspaper, is more optimistic. Pointing out that it was not too long ago that Canada rated its population at 15 million and considered that a stable figure, the paper cites the present total of 17,678,000 and warns: "But don't bother to memorize that figure — it won't be that for very long."

With Election Over, Menasha Asks 'Where Do We Go Now?'

Editor, Post-Crescent:

To the Citizens of Menasha:

Now that the election is over, with its bitter incriminations, charges and counter-charges, isn't it a good time to re-evaluate and appraise what was accomplished by this election? Just what did it accomplish anyway? What did the winners win and the losers lose? Most important of all, and this transcends everything, what did the City of Menasha win or lose? This only time can tell. Nevertheless, we should ask ourselves some soul-searching questions and act accordingly, namely, where do we go from here? Are we going to drift again or are we going to steer a course and what is that course going to be? In addition, we should ask if the stand on the election issue is going to be typical of the policies that will be guiding the future destiny of Menasha?

There seemed to be one outstanding issue regarding the sale of city property. There were two schools of thought. The larger one by a big majority apparently feels that some idle downtown lots or any other city property, for that matter, must not be disposed of for less than that proverbial and fabulous pot of gold at the end of the rainbow and it must not be used to encourage business or industry in any way — at the expense of some of our tax dollars.

Then there is the other school of thought, which is in the minority, that believes that Menasha must not become a ghost town. Menasha must through itself or any other organized agency offer inducements to industry and business and be willing to back this up with the necessary dollars to help keep Main street from dying a slow death.

After everything is said and done, after all the arguing is over and the dark clouds have passed, including the one made by the so-called "white elephant", these two schools should bury the hatchet and arrive at an answer which will be the most beneficial to the city of Menasha. We can not dodge it and it will affect the future of Menasha. It is going to affect what business and industry call "the political climate" of a community which determines whether or not that community will be considered for locating new businesses and industries, or expanding the present ones.

Both schools of thought are composed of conscientious, honest and upright citizens. Each one thinks the other is wrong but unfortunately both can't be right for the two views are incompatible. So it brings us back to these questions: Where do we go from here? Are we going to drift again or are we going to chart a course and what is it going to be?

Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for the week of April 21, 1860.

He is a young man of decided talent and possesses the energy to make his way through opposing circumstances.

Atty. Gen. McGrath said that big time gamblers apparently had moved into amateur and professional sports with large scale operations. He urged that congress crack down on the gamblers by forbidding the sending of gambling information across state lines.

More than 10,000 persons stood in quiet ranks at Appomattox Court House at the dedication of McLean house as a national shrine. It was at McLean house, on April 5, 1865, that Gen. Robert E. Lee of the southern army surrendered to Gen. Ulysses S. Grant to end the Civil war.

Leroy F. Fox, former sales supervisor of the Appleton Telephone company, was appointed manager of the Kenosha office.

Stopping Kennedy Isn't Going to be Easy

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

Madison — The dispatches from West Virginia relate that there is a "stop Kennedy" movement underfoot in that state in opposition to the ambitions of the young man from Boston who shook a couple of hundred thousands of hands in this state during the last three months.

The pro tempore beneficiary would be Sen. Hubert Humphrey, the only other contender in the primary of that state, and another old friend of a thousand platform appearances hereabouts.

In the perspective of a fortnight since the Wisconsin presidential primary balloting there arises the question whether the "stop Kennedy" business isn't really old hat. Wasn't there such a strategy here before April 5, in spite of the unwillingness of many of the professionals to recognize it?

THE ROORBACK

Within hours before the Wisconsin voting there was the elaborately announced news that the "Symington club" of Wisconsin was throwing its support to Sen. Humphrey. A couple of newspaper editors recognized the stunt for what it probably was, a "roorback."

Most of them didn't, and gave the incident a prominence that upon any analysis it didn't deserve. There was no such organization in the state worthy of the name, as every political reporter knew. It is virtually certain that the stunt was conceived to befuddle the voter, to suggest that the prestige of Sen. Symington had been thrown into the Wisconsin scales against Sen. Kennedy, when in fact it was the act of an anonymous local politician who won't ever be heard about again.

Of greater interest, in hindsight, was the now-notorious attempt to inject the religious issue into the campaign to Sen. Kennedy's hurt serves of poison gas at Rocky Mountain arsenal.

It matters not a bit to Moscow that Johnson ran on a "pacifist" plank. Nor does it matter that Johnson's poison gas statement was part of a plea for world peace.

What matters to Moscow, of course, is that Johnson's name could be tacked onto a propaganda smear. Those Russian fairy tale writers follow the theory that facts shouldn't get in the way of a good, Red bedtime story.

through the weekly press of the state.

It is a pity that those persons who denounced that incident with such pious scorn haven't pursued it. Surely if this was the heinous act they said it was, something can be done to nail down its authorship and purpose, and more important, its financial background?

Consider the circumstances. A politician who had left Wisconsin half a dozen years earlier to live in the South, who had shown no slightest interest in Wisconsin political affairs in the interval, without warning turned up in Milwaukee to participate in the Wisconsin presidential preference primary. He chose Humphrey's side. At the last moment, when no counter-acting measures could be taken by the Kennedy organization, he caused to be inserted in the rural newspapers of Wisconsin an advertisement flagrantly calculated to arouse religious antagonism, and then cleared out for Florida again.

FAIL GUY

There is no intent here to suggest that Sen. Humphrey was in any way responsible for this very curious piece of business. One of the real hazards of politics is that a candidate can't always control the kind of people who join his standard.

But it must be perfectly evident to anyone who has ever watched a campaign with any degree of familiarity that this was an incident so strange that it should have aroused immediate suspicions.

Old Cars Used For Creating Artificial Reef

From The Greenville (S.C.) News

California is trying an experiment which may point the way to a useful method of disposing of old automobile bodies.

The plan is to use the old bodies to create artificial reefs in the 345-square mile inland Salton Sea in the hope that sport fishing can be improved. It seems that fish abound in that body of water, but that they are difficult to catch except near the wreckage of an old Navy piling.

Wildlife authorities figure that if the fish like reefs so well, they should be provided. And a surplus of old car bodies provides an ever present source of material for the project.

If the idea catches on, it may help to solve one of our most unsightly surplus problems. If and when coastal areas use up all their old cars for planting reefs for the fish, the hinterland regions would be glad to share by shipping old bodies by the train load to points where needed.

We are not informed as to whether reefs of the sort would work to the advantage of fishermen in our growing number of inland fresh lakes and reservoirs. Even if they won't, getting rid of the old eyesores that way would be a help. And maybe the fish wouldn't object.

Home Mutual Reelects Four To Board

For Minneapolis
Office Announced

Four members of the Home Mutual Insurance company's board of directors were re-elected to 3-year terms at the firm's annual meeting.

Re-named to the board were
J. I. Davis, 1102 W. Lorain street; Martin G. Hougan, Stoughton; Adolph P. Lehner,
Oconto Falls, and Clarence G.
Fuerst, New London. Davis and Hougan are vice presidents.

At the annual meeting of the Homestead Mutual Insurance company, which immediately followed that of the parent company, Davis, Lehner and Phillip Haag, Adell, were re-elected to 3-year terms on Homestead's board of directors.

Gordon A. Bubolz, president of both companies reported that Home Mutual's premium volume in fire and casualty insurance last year reached $7,351,000, highest in the company's history. Homestead Mutual listed $337,822,000, in wind and extended coverage insurance in force at the end of 1959, he said.

Bubolz announced purchase of 30,000 square feet of land in Minneapolis. The land will be used as the site for a new Minnesota branch office.

The new property is in the Southdale section of Edina, a southwest suburb of Minneapolis, and will serve as headquarters for Home Mutual operations in Minnesota.

The purchase is part of the company's decentralization program which was begun late last year. The program contemplates the establishment of district offices in each of the states where Home Mutual operates. The first such office was opened in February at East Lansing, Mich.

The new branch offices will provide complete sales, underwriting, claims and service facilities. The offices will house service staffs, equipment and policyholders and claims files.

At the end of 1958, Bubolz said, Home Mutual employed 190 persons. At the end of 1959, however, more than 215 employees were on the payroll, 65 of whom were working away from the Appleton offices.

Home Mutual writes insurance in Wisconsin, Minnesota, Michigan, Indiana, Missouri and Kentucky, but is licensed to extend its operations to 19 states.

To every family man who has ever wondered...

life insurance is enough?

Enough life insurance depends on how much monthly income your family would need if you weren't supporting them... and how much income you want at retirement if you live.

You must consider your present scale of living, mortgage on your home, educational funds needed, income your wife would need after children are self-supporting, and income from other sources including your present life insurance and Social Security. When all have been worked out additional life insurance should make up the difference between funds available and funds needed.

I'll be happy to give you exact figures based on your specific needs and budget. I can also tell you about New York Life's low-

Two Types of Bracelets Use Either Seed or Larger Beads

BY CAPPY DICK

It's fun to make things from beads and today's fun-project directions tell how to make bracelets, one requiring very small seed beads and the other large, round beads.

Try the seed-bead band first (Figure 5). Use two colors—red and white, for example. You also will need a 2-foot length of spool wire. Bend it at the middle so the ends are even.

On one side of the wire, string two red beads, two white ones and two red ones—six in all. In the same manner string six beads on the other side of the wire. It will now look like Figure 1. Twist the two wires together until the 12 beads form a tight little circle (Figure 2).

Continue stringing beads, placing two red ones, two white ones and two red ones on each side of the wire, then twist the wires together to form a tight circle. Stop when you have made a chain long enough to go around your wrist. At the end string a few beads on the left-over wires. Hook these ends into the first circle to fasten the wristband together.

The bracelet requiring larger beads is shown in Figure 4. Use two colors and a three-foot piece of spool wire. Bend it at the middle. On one side string a pink bead, then a blue one and a pink one. Push the other side of the wire through these three beads (Figure 3). Pull the two sides of the wire tight.

Add three more beads on one side of the wire—a pink, a blue and a pink—thread the other side through the beads and pull so this second row fits snugly against the first as in Figure 4. Continue forming rows until you have a band big enough to fit your wrist. To close the bracelet, fasten the ends of the wire around the first row of beads.

Illustration shows how both small and large beads may be woven on wire for bracelets.

Lesson in English

BY W. L. GORDON

Words often misused: Distinguish between EXCITE (to produce agitation) and INCITE (to drive on to a particular end). EXCITE is usually used of arousing the feelings, as, "The book excited interest in a national problem." "The speaker incited the mob to set fire to the buildings."

Often mispronounced: Parquet. Pronounce pah-r-kay, accent on second syllable.

Often misspelled: Imperative (mandatory; overbearing). Synonyms: Doubt (noun), distrust, mistrust, suspicion, disbelief, skepticism.

Word study: "Use a word three times and it is yours." Let us increase our vocabulary by mastering one word each day.

Today's word: intervention; any interference that may affect the interests of others. "We should decide our own quarrels without the intervention of others."

Respect for Germs Good but Don't Overdo It, Says Molner

By Joseph G. Molner, M.D.

"Dear Doctor: My daughter has bought a 30-year-old house, so the bathtub has been used for a long time, and by lots of people. I am wondering about having her and her family use it. Is there any way of disinfecting it to make it abso- Dr. Molner lutely safe? — Mrs. G. K."

Madam, I am heartily in favor of people who have a healthy respect for germs. You do. From this point on, it becomes a question of where to draw the line, at what point have you taken satisfactory precautions.

If you'll let me digress a moment, I have always been intrigued by the comparatively recent discovery of germs and what they mean.

Story About Doctor

A doctor of my acquaintance, quite some years older than I am, tells the story of an open house for physicians at the medical school from which I graduated.

The incident occurred shortly after 1900, which is only 60 years ago. In 1900 advanced doctors had a real understanding of germs, but the conquest of typhoid, diphtheria, small-pox, and (to some degree) pneumonia were still in the future.

Anyway, an old-fashioned doctor then in his almost-stodgy years, went back to his school for the open house, and for the first time in his life looked through a microscope at a slide carrying some germs. "Do you mean," he said in amazement, "that those little things are what causes venereal disease?"

We are only a few generations away from the days when the significance of

2-Time Oscar Loser Benefits as Runner-Up

Arthur O'Connell's Salary Hiked First, Now to Appear With Bardot

BY JAMES BACON
AP Movie-TV Writer

Hollywood —AP— Volumes have been written about Academy award winners but the Oscar loser is really Hollywood's forgotten man.

Does he sneak out of the theater while the flashbulbs pop around the winner? Does he mope? How does it affect his career?

I submit the first — at least in my memory — story about the day after the awards for a loser, Arthur O'Connell, a 2-time loser, is the case history. He was up for best supporting actor for his role of the grape-soaked lawyer of "Anatomy of a Murder."

One observation: If Arthur ever wins an Oscar — and he probably will — better call out the police reserves. This guy celebrates even when he loses.

On the day after the awards two weeks ago, Beverly Hills citizens were startled to see a distinguished looking man wearing white tie and tails sitting in the front seat of a car. It was noontime.

"People kept looking at me and muttering, 'I know I've germs was a new idea to us. Today we are all well aware of the part germs play in our lives, and at times we become too alarmed."

Require Nutrition

The hard surface of a bathtub isn't a satisfactory place for germs to live — looking at it from their standpoint, that is. Remember that germs are living organisms, requiring nutrition as does any form of life.

The disease germs (there are more harmless or useful varieties than there are disease types) are essentially parasites.

Germs don't by choice live in bathtubs. Some doubtless get there, of course, but a good scrubbing with soap and water, and then a rinsing is the best way to get rid of them. The same is true of floors or other parts of the house.

If you would feel more assurance from the presence of an antiseptic odor, there are compounds with a chlorine or carbolic base, but they aren't really necessary.

Theologist Will Lecture in Church Series

First Congregational church will present Dr. Carl Michelson, professor of systematic theology at Drew university, Madison, N. J., in a series of lectures on "Our Faith and Our Loves" Sunday, April 24, through Wednesday, April Michelson

This is the second annual post-Easter lecture series for Congregationalists and the public sponsored by the church.

Dr. Michelson has traveled widely, is the author of books, articles and translations and has taught in Europe, the far East and the United States.

An ordained elder of the Methodist church and a member of the Minnesota conference, he took his BA degree at John Fletcher college, bachelor of divinity degree at Drew and his master's degree and doctorate at Yale university. He became a full professor at Drew in 1955. In 1952 and 1953 he studied at the university of Tubingen, Germany, and Basel, Switzerland, and two years ago was a visiting lecturer at the Tokyo Union Theological seminary and Aoyama Gakuin university in Japan.

The subjects of his evening addresses are "How to Know the Hidden God," "Man's Alienation and Reconciliation," "How to Love Your Neighbor" and "The Meaning of History."

He also will preach at the Sunday services at 9:30 and 11 a.m. April 24.

Edd Byrnes Returns To Warner Lot After 5-Month Suspension

Hollywood —AP— Edd (Kookie) Byrnes has patched things up with Warner Bros. and goes back to work today.

Byrnes, under suspension since he walked off the job last November in a salary squabble, played in the "77 Sunset Strip" television series.

A studio spokesman declined to say what salary had been settled on but Byrnes earlier had balked at $750 a week or twice his former salary. The spokesman said he probably will return to the Sunset Strip series.

In 1956, Arthur was the favorite for his portrayal of the trapped bachelor of "Picnic" but he got trapped instead by big studio politics. That was the year Jack Lemmon won for "Mr. Roberts."

Lemmon's performance was a classic one but it was a star role, not supporting. The studio also had James Cagney as a nominee in the same picture. Rather than pit Lemmon vs. Cagney, the studio dropped Lemmon in the supporting category.

Cause Celebre

The action touched off a controversy and forced the academy to change its rules so that stars — players billed above the title — could not compete in the supporting classification.

"Somehow," Arthur recalls, "I became a cause celebre. Producers, either venting sorrow for me or anger at the academy, kept doubling my salary without my asking for it. I played on the stage in 'Picnic' at $400 a week. I did the picture for $1,000 — and a few months after losing the Oscar I was getting $5,000 a week."

What happened after losing this year?

"The next day Pat Boone called me from Paris and said he wanted me to do a spot on his TV show with Brigitte Bardot. He hoped it would cheer me up."

Arthur was on the next plane for Paris.

Weatherman Frustrates Easter Sunday Paraders

Huddled in the Snow in front of Memorial Presbyterian church, waiting for their ride home are, from left, Gwen Spiegelberg, Mrs. Wilda Dailey, Chicago, Lynne Spiegelberg and Mrs. Herbert Spiegelberg.

In Good Taste Ask to Pay Share of Meal Check

BY EMILY POST
Dear Mrs. Post: While traveling abroad last summer, a friend and I met a young married couple with whom we became quite friendly. As they live in another city we have not seen them since the day we said good-bye at the airport, but we have been corresponding. Yesterday I received a telephone call from the wife saying that they had come to town quite unexpectedly and thought perhaps we could get together and have dinner some evening. I said we would love to see them and made a date to go to a very nice restaurant. Now, comes the question of how to take care of the payment of the bill. We have no reason to believe that we are to be their guests and I assume it is to be Dutch treat. Will you please tell me how we can pay our share of the bill without causing embarrassment to the man?

Answer: When the dinner

check is presented to the husband, you can say to him, "Please" with the accent on please, "let's make this Dutch treat." Then if he refuses, don't insist because most men would be made very uncomfortable if a woman were to pay for her meal at his table.

Either Way
Dear Mrs. Post: When a man invites a woman out to dinner, does he ask her where she would like to dine, or does he choose the restaurant? Answer: He usually either asks her if she will dine with him at the Blackstone, or he simply asks her to dine with him and then later asks her where she would like to go.

Mrs. Post offers readers leaflets on a variety of subjects concerning etiquette. If you would like to have her leaflet E-27, entitled, "Afternoon Tea," send 10 cents in coin to Dept. E. P., care of this newspaper, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

Honor French Guests at Party

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Miller, 342 W. Commercial street, held an open house from 2 to 6 p.m. Saturday to honor their guests from France. Hoang Van De, Mrs. Miller's Vietnamese brother whom she hadn't seen since 1942, and Andre Peskine are on a business tour of the United States, representing the Stokvis company of Paris and New York.

Group Schedules Fashion Show

The Patronesses of Xavier High school will hold a style show at 8 p.m. on May 18 in the school commons. Arrangements for clothes and models are being made by the H. C. Prange company.

Mrs. Arliss French will be the historian for the Patronesses.

Mrs. Frank Lappen Ties a scarf over her daughter Anne's new Easter hat as they leave Emmanuel Evangelical United Brethren church Sunday. Churchgoers throughout Wisconsin were in the same predicament Easter as Old Man Winter made a return visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Merritt and their two children, Harold, Jr., 7, and Deborah, 4, hurry to get into the First Methodist church and out of the spring elements. Although the weatherman was not especially gracious to the Easter parade, there was still evidence of spring finery along Appleton streets.

Scouts List Camp Dates

Applications for Established Troop camp at Winnecomb, Kaukauna, and Vic-to - Rae, New London, are due at the Girl Scout office Friday. Established troop camp is an opportunity for a patrol of eight girls and two leaders from one troop in the present sixth or seventh grade or a patrol from a neighboring group to go camping together. The camp dates are June 16 through 18 and June 23 through 25 at Winnecomb and June 13 through 15 at Vic-to-Rae. The program at camp will include cooking all meals, exploring, outdoor activities and conservation.

A pre-planning session for the leaders will be given at 9:15 May 3 at the YMCA by Mrs. Joseph F. Heaton, Winnecomb director, and at 7:30 p.m. May 9 at the First Congregational church, New London, by Miss Esther Pickles, Vic-to-Rae director.

Catholic Daughters Conduct Service

Catholic Daughters of Appleton held a Memorial service for 43 deceased members Monday at Xavier Catholic High school. Mrs. John Milhaupt was conductress, with the choir accompanying. Mrs. Robert Bodoh and Miss Josephine Steckbauer were soloists, with Mrs. Clifford Vincent, director of the choir, giving a choral reading. Mrs. Eleanor Downs was the pianist.

Mrs. Arliss French reported on the plans for the annual Mother-Daughter communion and breakfast, which will be held at St. Pius church May 1.

Mrs. Hubert Wetak, Mrs. T. H. Cavanaugh and Mrs. J. J. Cummings were appointed members of the nominating committee. Mrs. J. K. Rath, grand regent, and Mrs. Stanley Staidl, vice regent, were named delegates to the 19th biennial state convention at Lake Geneva.

Sister Peter and members of her staff conducted a tour of the building after the meeting. Mrs. H. A. Gresenz and Mrs. Lucille Van Wyk were social chairmen and Mrs. Herbert A. Simon was program chairman.

Miss Arent Honored At Showers

Miss Sharon Arent, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Arent, 1715 N. Clark street, was recently honored at five miscellaneous bridal showers. The bride-elect will marry Paul Schmidt, son of Mrs. Elma Schmidt, 51 DePere street, Menasha, on April 30.

On Feb. 24 a shower was given at the home of Mrs. John Stotmeister, 1114 W. Oklahoma street, with Mrs. Francis Schuldes as co-hostess.

Mrs. James R. Murphy and Mrs. Ronald Kositzke entertained relatives and friends of Miss Arent on March 22 at Mrs. Murphy's home, 942 Cherry street, Neenah.

Mrs. Donald Arent, sister-in-law of the bride-elect, gave a shower on March 29 at Mrs. Howard Arent's home.

On April 3 guests honored Miss Arent at the home of Mrs. William Schmidt, 51 DePere street, Menasha. Mrs. Donald Schmidt was co-hostess.

Mrs. William Horn, 1201 W. Elsie street, and Mrs. Clarence Christen held a shower on Tuesday at Mrs. Horn's home.

Friends to Fete Bride-Elect

Miss Ann K. Winkler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Winkler, 2115 McDonald street, will be the guest of honor at a miscellaneous shower luncheon Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. O. Reynold Steinert, 616 E. Eldorado street.

Miss Winkler is engaged to marry Douglas E. Olson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Olson, Madison, on June 11 at the First Methodist church in Clintonville.

Guests from Appleton, Neenah and Clintonville will attend the luncheon.

Miss Jean Sachs Parents Tell Engagement Of Daughter

The engagement of Miss Jean Sachs to Allan Van Daalwyk, son of Mr. and Mrs. Urban Van Daalwyk, 1111 W. Kimberly avenue, Kimberly, has been announced by Mr. and Mrs. Albert Sachs, 1524 S. Madison street.

The bride-elect is a graduate of Appleton High school and her fiancé graduated from Kimberly High school. Both are employed at Marathon division of American Can company.

No wedding date has been set.

Housewives Stress Privacy Needs

Washington — American housewives agree with poet Robert Frost that "good fences make good neighbors." Wives who attended the Family Conference on Housing at the National Housing center in Washington last fall generally agreed that privacy was their first requirement in the selection of a neighborhood in which to live.

"I don't want my neighbor looking in at me from her dining room window," the women said, again and again. They liked trees, shrubbery, and hedges as well as fences or even a driveway to give some "separation" between houses.

(Husband and wife teams from all sections of the country voiced definite housing likes and dislikes at the Family Conference on Housing, held last fall in Washington, D. C. Despite the many individualistic views, there were areas of general agreement. This is the last of a series of five articles based on an analysis of the transcript.)

One woman did take a dim view of fences. She said she has a fence and she has "to climb it to talk to my neighbor."

"Put in a gate," her colleagues chorused.

Another housewife said that her city home has been "full of in-laws" and "we felt privacy was about the best thing we had when we moved" to the suburbs.

"You find it a good idea to be a little ways from in-laws?" another asked.

Privacy Helps
"It helps," was the reply. "We are all better friends."

Men attending the conference, sponsored by the National Association of Home

Builders and the Women's Housing Congress, Inc., also liked privacy. But they tended to put even a higher priority on zoning regulations.

The almost 100 delegates then listed nearness to schools, shopping centers, and public transportation as the next requirements of their ideal neighborhood.

Although most women favored regional shopping centers, some wanted a corner grocery nearby for that "forgotten loaf of bread."

Another said that bus service is imperative "if we aren't all to be turned into chauffeurs for our children, taking them to the dentist, to the movies, and what not."

Considerable discussion arose over the uniformity of homes in a subdivision. None liked houses exactly alike but one man expressed a view that won considerable support.

"A ranch house and a contemporary or a split-level," he said, "will certainly go together but if you throw a gingerbread house or a cracker-box house or something that is totally different in the area, it looks out of place. I think that is just as bad as the opposite extreme."

Houses Alike
"If you will notice any city that has grown, the homes are relatively alike. Once they merge in, they look like an old established neighborhood. The houses are different yet they are relatively alike. If everybody gets a different type house right next door to each other, it just looks like a hodgepodge and it would never break down and become part of a merged community."

Some delegates liked corner lots, others didn't. Husbands, generally, favored level lots because it was "easier to mow the grass," most made it abundantly clear they did not like to cut the grass. But one said:

"I don't worry too much about grass. In this modern age, pretty soon we will be pressing a button and the grass will be cut. And grass is nice. My son is 10 and will be able to take care of the grass."

"When your son is old enough to cut the grass," another commented, "he will want an auto instead."

Use Excess Herbs For Salad Dressing
If you find yourself with extra envelopes of herb-and-spice mixes for dips, you can use them with oil and vinegar for excellent salad dressings.

Needle Work

SEAMS TO ME

By Patricia Scott

A few weeks ago, I decided to make myself a very special, very simple cocktail dress. I knew the fabric and style I wanted and it HAD to say "elegant."

So, off I went full speed ahead, and started plowing through pattern books. Then came the blow. I couldn't find a pattern that faintly resembled the style I had in mind or even one suitable for the two fabrics I planned to use. So, I bought two patterns—a dress with the top I liked and a skirt pattern—and combined them. I made the top in black silk mat jersey and the skirt in smoke grey or m. r. e. chiffon. The only accessory was a belt covered in the jersey.

At one time or another, I'm sure all of you have run into your other proportions. In this case, you can use a top and a skirt in two different size patterns, giving you a perfect fit. You can take the top of one dress and skirt of another, a blouse pattern and skirt pattern, or any other combination you like. If you know how to assemble a pattern, you would have no trouble.

Mix, Match Patterns

By Patricia Scott

Follow the directions given on the pattern instruction sheets of each section used, and keep the following in mind:

If you are using a blouse pattern, before laying it out, fold up the excess length required on a blouse, leaving enough for seam allowance where top and skirt are to be joined.

Leave side or back opening for zipper.

Fit blouse on yourself as you would a dress and pin front and back darts if blouse does not call for any.

In using either blouse or dress pattern, make sure that the waistline on the top measures the same as that of the skirt.

If using a skirt pattern, follow pattern instructions but omit waistband.

Join top and skirt and finish as you would any dress.

Before choosing your patterns, you must consider several things. Always balance your design. That is, if your top has a bow at the neck, don't choose a skirt with a flowing drape.

By the same token, if your top is a tailored shirtwaist, you'd look pretty silly with a draped skirt. In this case, you would use a simple one. There are no set rules on what goes with what. Just use good taste, balance and choose the most flattering lines for your figure.

Be brave and use your imagination when choosing fabrics and colors. Combine different fabrics—blend, rather than match colors. My dress would have looked divine in soft pink jersey with hot pink chiffon for more formal wear.

Your Problems

Girl Mistrusts Baby Sitter; Spends Nights in Bathtub

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN: I'm a girl, 13½ years old. I don't consider myself a baby any longer but my folks do. They think I have to have a sitter when they go out at night.

For the past few months the sitter, has been a 19-year-old college boy who lives in the neighborhood. He has made some fresh remarks and has told me some jokes that weren't very nice. To be honest, I feel uncomfortable when he's in the house.

There's no lock on my bedroom door so I go into my bathroom, bolt the door, put a pillow in the bath tub and try to sleep until my folks come home. The bath tub is kind of short and I don't get much rest.

I don't want to tell my folks how I feel because I may get the kid in trouble and he really hasn't done anything wrong. Please, Ann, tell me what to do.—Krick in my Neck.

Dear Krick: It sounds as if the sitter needs someone to sit with him.

This is what to tell your folks:

The boy is nice but you'd prefer a girl sitter—as sort of a substitute big sister. If this doesn't get any action tell them a few of the sitter's jokes and credit the source. That'll do it.

DEAR ANN: I teach psychology and do well solving the problems of others—but I can't solve my own.

I'm what is known as "the Perfect Listener." Consequently I attract the most loquacious, long-winded, boring people in every group. I get stuck in corners at parties, collared in vestibules, nailed in doorways, trapped on the telephone, and frankly I'm tired of it.

Everyone says, "Lois, you have such perfect understanding!" Or, "Lois, I just love to talk to you—you're such a comfort!" Both ears are tired and ragged. What shall I do?—Hear Ye.

Dear Hear: Paste up those tattered ears and stay with us, Doll. The world needs you!

I know, because of the number of people who pour out their hearts to me, that this world is filled with troubled souls who have no one to talk to. Almost everyone can talk—but very few know how to listen.

"The Perfect Listener" is a dying breed. You are performing a greater service than you know. Don't leave your post, Soldier.

DEAR ANN LANDERS:

Several years ago my husband built a nice business from scratch. He felt sorry for his brother who had lost one job after another, so he took him into the business.

The brother has borrowed large sums of money from the business for "emergencies." He has never paid it back. My husband says he'd rather forget about it than start any trouble.

A few months ago the brother took his own son into the business without even consulting my husband. The son has an obnoxious personality and has already lost some key accounts because of his big mouth.

My husband is getting ulcers from all the aggravation. What shall we do? Please don't suggest we get out of the business. Remember my husband started it.—C. C. T.

Dear C. C. T.: Regardless of the face that is shown to the outside world, relatives who feed from a common trough usually have deeply hostile feelings. If the men get along then the wives don't. Of course there are exceptions, but they are rare as hen's teeth.

My advice is to buy the brother out or insist that he buy you out. This is no way to live.

Are you tempted to smoke because the crowd does? If so, send for Ann Landers' booklet, "Teenage Smoking," enclosing with your request 10 cents in coin and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

(Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.)

Miss Peggy Oatman

Tell Troth of

Peggy Oatman,

James Andrews

Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Oatman, 1127 W. Wisconsin avenue, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Peggy Lee, to James Gordon Andrews. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Andrews, Pages point, Menasha.

Miss Oatman is a graduate of Appleton High school and is employed at Birchwood restaurant.

Her fiancé graduated from Menasha High school and is working for the Neefah Paper company.

The couple will be married May 14.

Mrs. Leon Bechard

To Direct WSCS

Bear Creek — Mrs. Leon Bechard was elected president of the Women's Society of Christian Service to succeed Mrs. Earl Ransom.

The other officers were re-elected; Mrs. Alton Affeldt, vice president; Mrs. Harold Ransom, secretary, and Mrs. Ora Kempf, treasurer.

Except by touching it, it's impossible to tell that there's any glass at all on pictures that are protected by a special non-glare glass. The pictures can be seen from any angle without interference from reflections, no matter how brightly lighted the room is by sun or electricity.

The mystery glass isn't as smooth as glass. Which explains why it deflects light rather than reflects it—it has been chemically changed from the smoothness that catches reflections to minutely grained, completely invisible, roughness. Use of the glass on water colors, prints, sketches, engravings, anything to hang that has a flat surface, means that they can be hung where reflections from sun, lamps and fixtures might spoil their effect otherwise. Only on raised decorations, and oil paintings because of their uneven surfaces, is the use of the glass inadvisable, and it is excellent for framed documents. Glass dealers, portrait photographers and frame shops have the glass to cut in frame sizes as easily as any other glass.

Mrs. D. M. H. "We have just moved into our first home and would like help with living room colors. The ceiling slopes from a height of 11 feet to about 8 feet toward the front of the house, where there's a large window. The corner fireplace facing is covered with medium brown driftwood paneling to the ceiling and there's a red folding door just off the living room. I have plain gold draperies, a beige sofa and chair, mahogany tables and red lamps, cushions and a red footstool. Would beige be a good color for the walls, or would it contrast too little with the gold and make the room look dull? Would chocolate brown be too dull for the carpet?"

If you chose a shade of gold for the drapery that is lively enough to be attractive with the beige furniture covers, matching or slightly lighter beige should be successful on the walls. It will be necessary, however, to use wall decorations that are somewhat colorful and include a deep brown, to break the large areas of beige above the sofa, especially. Quite a deep brown will be a better color for the floor than a lighter shade and no additional color should be introduced for as large an area as carpet covers.

of diamonds from the dummy. East is ready with the withholding play. That is, East calmly and casually withholds the ace of diamonds.

East doesn't make a production of it. He just plays a low diamond without a care in the world.

South runs the rest of the clubs and leads another diamond. West plays low, and South must guess whether to play the queen or the 10 from the dummy. If South guesses wrong, he loses his slam. East has a very fair chance to wind up with a profit.

East would have no chance at all if he took the first diamond trick with the ace. South would automatically finesse the 10 of diamonds later, and this would guarantee his slam.

Look for this withholding position when you play bridge. Don't be in a hurry to take an ace when you are behind the king-queen-10.

Daily Question

Partner opens with one club, and the next player passes. You hold: S-7 5 4, H-9 6 5 2, D-A 8 2, C-8 5 2. What do you say?

Answer: Pass. You need more than 4 points to respond to an opening bid of one in a suit.

of diamonds from the dummy. East is ready with the withholding play. That is, East calmly and casually withholds the ace of diamonds.

East doesn't make a production of it. He just plays a low diamond without a care in the world.

South runs the rest of the clubs and leads another diamond. West plays low, and South must guess whether to play the queen or the 10 from the dummy. If South guesses wrong, he loses his slam. East has a very fair chance to wind up with a profit.

East would have no chance at all if he took the first diamond trick with the ace. South would automatically finesse the 10 of diamonds later, and this would guarantee his slam.

West Virginia Is Headline Race

Kennedy-Humphrey Rivalry Said To be Resulting in Bad Feeling

BY WILLIAM S. WHITE
Washington — The Kennedy-Humphrey rivalry for the Democratic presidential nomination is descending into genuine bad feeling. The two aspirants' toil over the scraggly hills of West Virginia is search not so much of votes as of propaganda advantage.

Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts refused during the primary contest in Wisconsin to use what he called "personal attacks." But now Kennedy, for whom the great prize seems in near grasp, has sent a warning to Humphrey.

"No more monkey business," Kennedy has said in substance, "or I, too, will take off the gloves." Humphrey, through his own people has retorted in effect: "Go ahead and take them off. Our campaign will go on as before."

May Leave Wounds
Indications thus mount that West Virginia may leave wounds within the Democratic party which will not readily heal.

For the Democrats there is a somber fittingness in the fact that the "beauty contest" primary in this little, unimportant border state carries such inherent dangers. Often before in history the border states, standing uneasily betwixt north and south, have been politically "the dark and bloody ground," as Kentucky was called during the Civil war.

There is irony, too, West Virginia's primary election of May 10 will bind no delegate to any candidate. It is strictly a "popularity contest." And when it is all over West Virginia's handful of national convention votes — 25 out of a total of 1,521 — will still be in the exclusive control of the men who control them now, the state's Democratic leaders. Whoever "wins" will win mostly in the headlines: West Virginia's actual ballots at the convention probably will be thrown to neither but more likely to Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas or Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri.

Kennedy Must Win
All the same, the view now is almost unanimous that Kennedy must win this unnecessary propaganda war. West Virginia is a profoundly Protestant state, having a Catholic population of less than 5 per cent. Kennedy badly needs a "victory" as a reply to the widely advertised fact that he got heavy Catholic support in Wisconsin.

For Humphrey it is even more plainly an unnecessary war. It is perfectly clear, even to some of his own supporters, that even if he should win the West Virginia quasi-contest he is not really going anywhere.

The Kennedy people thus see his continued candidacy as a wrecking operation which couldn't possibly do Humphrey much good but could do Kennedy much harm.

Humphrey Has Tasks
The Humphrey people represent the implication that their man should simply quit like a good little boy. He has his own prestige to think of. For his minimum necessity is to retain his senate seat, which is up this year. When his presidential ambitions have finally collapsed, he must hurry home to Minnesota to run for reelection to the senate.

It is this new factor, and not so much any Wisconsin hangover, that really embroils the two sets of partisans. Wisconsin produced no unforgivable act on either side. Kennedy supporters did nothing approaching a smear operation — except perhaps for attempts to tie Humphrey in with Jimmy Hoffa, the malodorous labor leader.

Humphrey supporters did nothing approaching a smear operation — except possibly for attempts to connect Kennedy with "Texas oil money."

Dark, Bloody Ground
Nobody on the inside of this campaign really believes Kennedy improperly solicited Catholic backing in Wisconsin. Nobody really believes Humphrey made the slightest effort to trade on anti-Catholicism. All the same, the so-called "Catholic issue" is on many tongues in West Virginia today.

This, most of all, is why West Virginia might be called today another "dark and bloody ground."

Biography to Be Available For State

Historical Society Putting Out Volume On 1,600 Persons

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

Madison — More than two decades after it was begun, a dictionary of Wisconsin biography will become available to Wisconsin students and others this spring.

Under the imprint of the State Historical society, the volume will contain the annotated biographies of more than 1,600 individuals who left their mark upon the development of the state.

The biography will list only deceased persons. The year 1858 was the cut-off date.

Editors confined the list to persons of public significance, or "movers and shapers" of the history of the state.

Started in 30's
The project was started during the days of the works progress administration in the 1930's, through its writers' projects division.

The materials were stored in society vaults until about 1950, when officers decided to complete it. More than 500 scholars were involved in editing and writing the volume.

Among the principal editors were Herbert Rice, Marquette University; Fred Olson, the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee; William B. Hessel, University of Wisconsin, La Crosse; and Walker Wyman, Wisconsin State college, River Falls.

A Snow Bunny Made a Belated arrival on Easter Sunday in the southern section of Neenah. The unseasonal snow storm, which spoiled the Easter parade for many, provided the materials and the workmen, left to right, were Susan Shepard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald C. Shepard, Jr., 749 Oak street; Cheryl Aldridge, Rebecca Osborne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Osborne, 1249 Campbell street; and Renee Aldridge. The Aldridge girls are daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Aldridge, 218 Crescent drive.

Lightning Hits Home, Causes $5,000 Loss

Bolt Goes Through House, Fence, Shed on Hy. 150

Neenah — A lightning bolt about 3 p.m. Saturday touched off a fire causing about $5,000 damage to a home and property on Highway 150 in the town of Menasha which is owned by Palmer Sell and then carved a bizarre path before ending in a tree.

Firemen from the joint Neenah - Menasha township department, the town of Menasha department and the town of Vinland department responded with about 14 firemen fighting the blazes for 11 hours.

The lightning bolt followed the wires into the house and then branched out, setting fires between partitions in the home. The bolt also followed a wire out to the machine shed, burning materials in the shed, and then went out the window and dug a trench through some stacked lumber.

From there it followed 200 feet along a barbed wire fence and went up a tree. Telephone lines in the area also were knocked out by the lightning bolt which also burned the electrical wiring to the main power entrance to the house.

The house was not occupied at the time. Sell lives a short distance away.

Mrs. Sell had to flag down cars on Highway 150 in order to notify the fire department since the phones in the area were knocked out by the lightning bolt. It was thought the lightning had hit about 2:40 p.m.

The upstairs of the house was extensively damaged and the lower floor received water damage. Courtney and Plummer, Inc., was called shortly after firemen arrived to haul water for the trucks and the town of Vinland fire department was called at 3:18 p.m. Saturday. The calls for the Menasha township truck, Vinland truck and Courtney and Plummer trucks were made by the radio hookup to the sheriff's office.

Fined $5, Costs

Neenah — David Jost, 21, 1335 Katherine street, Appleton, was fined $5 and costs by Police Justice E. P. Arpin this morning after he pleaded guilty of driving with an expired driver's license. He was arrested at 3:50 a.m. Saturday on High street.

Rubbish Collection

Two Drivers Convicted on Hit-Run Charges in Menasha

Menasha — Two drivers today pleaded guilty to charges placed as a result of hit-run accidents at their appearances in Police Justice Arthur J. Ales' court.

Convicted were Carl Nollenberg, 27, 632 1/2 Third street, and Norbert J. Flett, 28, Green Bay.

Nollenberg also was fined $5 on each of two other charges—driving without an operator's permit and ignoring a stop sign.

He was arrested after his car struck the parked auto of David E. Reilly, Madison, at 18 Tayco street, about 12:20 a.m. today. He was assessed $50 and costs for leaving the scene.

Flett, who had been using the alias Tony Martinez, was fined $50 for hit-run and $10 for drunken and disorderly conduct. He was given the alternative of 35 days in jail.

The car he was driving, owned by LaVerne Graham, route 1, Fremont, Sunday night struck the auto of Dennis H. Daniels, 22, 803 E. Brewster street, Appleton, parked in front of 515 Broad street.

Shortly after the accident, he was arrested on Racine street after a disturbance in a tavern. While he was held in the jail, Graham identified him as the borrower of his car, which was abandoned at 104 Appleton street after the hit-run accident.

Car Hits Pole
Lawrence E. Kosloski, 19, route 2, Appleton, was fined $10 for inattentive driving and $5 for violating terms of his temporary driver's license as a result of a 2 a.m. Sunday accident on Appleton road near Harding street, where his car struck a utility pole.

He and a passenger, Miss Dorothy Keller, 19, 335 Third street, received minor injuries for which they received treatment at Theda Clark Memorial hospital.

Two speeders were convicted by Ales. They were Walter M. Angell, 17, 234 Loraine avenue, Neenah, whose driver's license was suspended for 30 days, and Carlos M. Smith, 29, 1823 1/2 S. Bouten street, Appleton, who forfeited $10 and costs. Both were arrested Friday.

200 Phones in Area Knocked Out by Lightning

Neenah — About 200 telephones in isolated places of the area served by the Neenah - Menasha exchange were knocked out by lightning Saturday, C. M. Flaherty, manager, said today.

Telephone repairmen worked through the night and Easter Sunday to restore service. Some of the outages were hard to locate because of being so widely scattered.

Flaherty said lightning getting into a cable could knock out 100 phones which could be restored through one repair. But many of the phones knocked out were from separate lightning strikes.

He said it is not unusual for that large a number of phones to be out after a severe spring lightning storm. The telephone exchange serves 18,000 customers.

County Board May Pass Ordinance On Civil Defense

Supervisors to Reorganize, Name Officers, Committees

Oshkosh — The Winnebago county board is expected to take action on the naming of a civil defense committee as required under a new state law when it holds its organization session at 10 a.m. Tuesday.

First on the agenda Tuesday will be the selection of a county board chairman to succeed Joseph Drexler, Oshkosh, and a vice chairman to succeed John T. Heigl, Neenah.

Also up for election Tuesday will be the five members of the welfare board, the five members of the highway committee and the three county board members of the agriculture and education committee.

Members of the county school committee also will be elected where terms of present members expire. Scheduled to follow the elections will be the adoption of rules and committee responsibilities with several changes contemplated along that line.

One of these would be the designation of a committee to direct the county civil defense activities and another would be a committee to supervise the activities of the county guidance center located at Neenah. The welfare board has been handling that supervision until a committee is designated.

One new supervisor, Fred W. Grupe, Neenah Second ward, will be seated at this session. Four other Neenah and three Menasha supervisors were reelected. The other areas have their elections next year.

5 Neenah Area Persons Hurt In 3-Car Crash

Illinois, Eau Claire Drivers Injured in Weekend Mishaps

Oshkosh — Five Neenah area residents were injured in a 3-car accident on County Trunk A in the town of Neenah about 7:33 p.m. Sunday. Authorities reported a car driven by Gerald A. Fischer, 19, of 648 Winnebago Heights, Neenah, skidded into the path of a vehicle driven by Peter J. Gehrke, 32, route 1, Neenah. The third driver, George E. Gooding, Jr., 34, of 112 E. Wisconsin avenue, Neenah, was unable to see the two cars blocking the road and ran into Fischer's auto.

Gehrke suffered a laceration over the right eye, was treated at Theda Clark hospital and released. Fischer received a fractured right arm and shoulder contusions and is in good condition at the hospital.

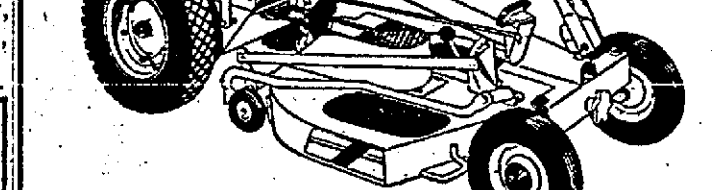

Mr. and Mrs. Gooding and their three sons, Bob, 11, Greg, 10, and Charles, 7, were checked at the hospital and released. All the injured were taken to the hospital in the Neenah ambulance.

Neck Injury
George H. Veltkamp, 53, Berwyn, Ill., received a possible neck injury after his car skidded on Highway 110 in the town of Wolf river, went into the ditch and rolled over twice early Sunday evening. He was taken to Theda Clark hospital by a passing motorist. His condition was reported as good.

Neil R. Richards, 22, Eau Claire, suffered a back injury when his car went out of control, into a ditch and rolled over on Highway 21 in the town of Poygan Sunday night. He was treated by an Omro physician.

Lawrence A. Schuman, 21, Superior, was uninjured Sunday night when his car slid through a guard railing on the Butte des Morts bridge and went down an embankment into four feet of water.

Let Children Choose Colors For Own Rooms

Neenah — Color may be the first consideration in planning a child's room. Choose paint that is non-toxic and chip resistant. Washable fabrics and scuff-proof finishes will help keep accessories durable.

In choosing wall paper, for the room or to use as a wall divider, select a design of interest to the child. For bulletin boards, toy boxes and small chairs, a child might be given the opportunity to choose his own colors.

Mobies of colored birds and insects are fascinating for the small child and will help him learn to recognize birds and call them by name.

Open shelves or tilted shelves to hold books might be painted in different colors. Unless the accessory is a costly one, let your children have a hand in choosing colors for room furnishings.

Clean Freezer Before Filling With New Foods

Neenah — Before you fill the freezer this spring and summer, defrost and clean the appliance thoroughly. Ordinarily, defrosting about once a year is enough. Defrosting should be done before there is more than one-half inch of frost over a considerable area.

For scraping off the frost, use broad stiff spatula, putty knife, sharp - edged wooden paddle or some of the special tools on the market. Catch the frost on papers or cardboard as it is scraped from the walls. Frost on refrigerated shelves can be scraped directly out of the freezer.

Repack with the newest foods on the bottom so those stored the longest period can be used first. Take an inventory of the food as it goes back into the freezer. It is more economical to have a rapid turnover of foods in the freezer. Families who "live out" of their freezers, rather than saving food in the freezer have lower operating cost per pound.

The fewer times you open the freezer door in a day, the lower your operating cost will be. The freezer should be connected on a separate electric circuit to avoid overloading wires which strains and heats up the motor.

Potato Peeling Becomes Lost Art in Kitchen

Boise, Idaho — More and more of Idaho's potatoes are going to market in brightly colored packages and cans instead of the brown burlap bags in which they won their first fame.

The change is having far-reaching effects on the consumer and the producer.

For the housewife, it means the elimination of much of the preparation in serving, for example, an inviting dish of mashed potatoes.

But more important, for the producer it means a stabilized market for the product that has had a history of economic ups and downs since the Russet potato brought Idaho its fame as a tuber-producing state.

One of the leaders in the potato marketing change has been J. R. Simplot of Boise. He has been a potato producer since 1929.

Harvesting

Then it was a matter of planting the potatoes in the spring, keeping them cultivated and watered during the summer, harvesting them in the fall — and praying for a good price.

In 1940 Simplot built a processing plant in Caldwell for the production of dehydrated onions. Within a year he had begun processing potatoes, too. Now he operates plants in Caldwell, Burley and Heyburn.

Others have entered the field and plans are producing frozen or dehydrated potato products in Idaho Falls, Burley, Shelley, Blackfoot and Ontario, in Oregon just across the border from Idaho.

"The whole program is aimed at stabilizing the potato business," Simplot says. "Now we go into the farming areas ahead of the planting season and make firm contracts with the growers. The farmer knows before he plants his crop that he will be able to sell it."

One of the advantages of the processed potato is the reduction in weight. Freight charges always have been a major problem for Idaho producers, because of long shipping distances.

One hundred pounds of fresh potatoes are reduced to just 30 pounds of frozen french fries, Simplot says, and the reduction in weight of dehydrated potatoes is six to one.

Department of Agriculture statisticians recognized processing as a factor in disposing of Idaho's potatoes for the first time in 1946.

The percentage of the total crop processed has increased steadily since then. The Department of Agriculture estimates that 26 per cent of the 1955 crop, 29 per cent of the 1956 crop and 33 per cent of the 1957 crop was processed.

"I think in time," Simplot says, "that as much as 60 per cent of all the potatoes grown in the United States each year will be processed."

Products Increase

Types of potato products turned out continue to increase. The potato chip, of course, was one of the first. Among the first offered in frozen form were the french fries and hash browns.

Simplot says a prepared quick-frozen mashed potato in baked form now is ready. The mashed potato is put in a baked jacket made of potato flour, sprinkled with cheese or parsley or other dressing and frozen. The housewife simply takes it from the package, browns it in the oven and it's ready to serve.

"You can't tell it from the fresh product," Simplot says. Idaho and Maine are the leaders in the processing industry, just as they lead in production of fresh potatoes.

Two Calumet Layoffs Idle 400 Workers

Tecumseh Division, Chilton Metal Cut Labor Force Size

Chilton — Layoffs at two area factories in the last three weeks have put about 400 persons out of work. Wisconsin state employment officials here announced.

Of these, approximately 350 were laid off at the Lauson engine plant of Tecumseh Products, Inc., New Holstein, and about 30 third shift employees at the Chilton Metal Products plant.

Lauson's personnel director, Ernest Schmitz, said poor spring weather which disrupted the lawnmower market was partially responsible for the layoff. Most of Lauson's engines are sold to mower manufacturers. Production cutbacks at the plant during the late spring and summer, however, have been the rule rather than the exception.

Since the major share of Chilton Metal Products' production is gasoline tanks for the New Holstein plant, the layoff is related.

Some Rehired
Some of Lauson's laid off employees have been rehired, according to Schmitz, but he added it was impossible to predict the extent or time of any future rehiring.

Rumors of extensive layoffs at Calumet county factories have been circulating, the employment service representative said, but added the employment picture is not actually serious. The Lauson and Chilton Metal Products factories were the only two which have cut employment ranks to any extent.

Although the Chilton plant's labor pool is almost 100 per cent Calumet county, many of those cut at New Holstein were from Fond du Lac, Manitowoc and Sheboygan counties.

Menasha Sets Mid-June Openings For Pool, Recreation Programs

Menasha—Supervised summer recreation programs on six city playgrounds will begin June 20. The swimming pool's 1960 opening has been set for the June 11 weekend by the park and recreation department.

Playground programs will end Friday, Aug. 19 and the pool will close Labor day, Sept. 5.

Playground hours will be 10 a. m. to noon and 1 to 5 p. m. for children up to fifth grade, because of limited space and facilities.

Supervised play areas will be Second, Sixth and Seventh street parks and Jefferson, Garfield and Smith parks. Because the city administration may be held to its sale of Racine street park, that land will not be used for programs this year. (A lawsuit has been filed to block the park's deed transfer to First National bank.)

Hours at the swimming pool will be 1 to 5 and 6 to 9 p. m. every day of the week. Morning swims will be reserved for swimming classes.

Mornings Reserved
Registrations for the swimming classes will begin May 9 at the park and recreation department office in the Memorial building and close June 10. Children will be grouped according to ability and previous swimming instruction. Swim classes will begin Monday, June 20, with each section meeting twice weekly.

Season Passes
Season passes will go on sale at the Memorial building office May 9 until the pool opens. Then they will be sold at the pool.

This summer's program includes orientation of recreation personnel, June 13 - 17; treasure hunt, June 24; playground open house, June 30; all-tournament day, July 1; open house and frontier day, July 7; all-city checkers tournament, July 8; cowboy and Indian day, July 13;

Five Pieces of Incense were placed in the paschal candle in the form of a cross Saturday night at St. John Catholic church, Menasha, by the Rev. John Mirek, assistant pastor. The scene was typical of Easter vigils at other Catholic churches.

Snow Interferes With Leaf Pickup

Menasha—Leaves and lawn rakes will be picked up during this week after the snow melts and the street department's leaf sucker machine can operate. Street Supt. Evan Baldwin said today.

Up to Friday night, 50 tons of the material had been collected last week during the balmy weather. This week's operation, Baldwin emphasized, is not the annual spring cleanup. All leaves and clippings must be at curbs to be picked up.

Spring cleanup has not been set by the common council. It probably will be a week in early May, according to City Engineer M. J. Noth.

Last week's early start on the spring cleanup saw three street department trucks and 12 men employed in addition to the sanitation crews' three trucks and nine men.

Youth Fined $25 for Having Beer in Car With Minors Present

Oshkosh — Vernon C. Pavlak, 19, route 1, Neenah, was fined $25 and costs by Acting Municipal Judge Floyd D. Atherton this morning after pleading guilty to a charge of transporting beer in his car with minors present.

He was arrested by county authorities at 9:40 p.m. Sunday on Highway 110 in the town of Oshkosh following a 1-car accident. Pavlak and two passengers were taken to Mercy hospital for treatment of minor injuries.

He received a cut over the left eye. Dennis Zink, 18, of 2006 Mitchell street, Oshkosh, suffered a bump on the forehead, and Sharon Aaronson, 14, of 447 Bowen street, Oshkosh, was treated for cuts and bruises.

Neenah Tilt Halted In 6th; Score Tied

Issue Knotted 4-4 in First Game When Rain Interferes

Neenah — Neenah and Algoma fell victim to the rainmaker here Saturday afternoon and their twin bill was wiped out by a downpour with the score tied 4-4 in the top half of the sixth inning of the first game.

Algoma was at bat with one out and a 1-2 count on the second batter when the rain plus a thunderstorm forced the teams to vacate the premises. After a 30-minute wait, the twin bill was cancelled.

Tom Hensen and Bill Braun combined to halt the Wolves with four hits, three of them

Rocket Netters Open Schedule With M-E Match

Neenah — Coach Ivan Williams' Neenah High school tennis team will open its 14-match schedule in a Mid-Eastern conference duel against Kimberly here Tuesday afternoon.

The Rockets, who enter the season with six veterans, are defending conference titlists. Usually in matches against the weaker league teams, Williams uses varsity reserves but, because it is the opener, he may choose to allow his regulars a chance to get accustomed to the courts.

Neenah's first five is expected to be made up of Dick Wilson, Jack Anderson, Steve Price, Doug Ankerson and Dale Mrotek. Other squad members who saw varsity action last year include John Schmeirein, Ned Read, Bob Kosloske, Bruce Miller and Dick Diedrich.

Neenah blanked the Papermakers 7-0 in both of last year's meetings. The Rockets meet Appleton Thursday in their second match of the week.

Stilp Hurls Shot 48-6 in West Relays

Neenah — Mowry Stilp threw the shot put 48 feet, 6 inches to highlight performances by Neenah athletes in class A of the 23rd annual Madison West relays Saturday at the Camp Randall Memorial building. The Rockets tallied 31 points.

Stilp's toss, which was just 31 inches short of his school record, only was good for fourth place. Jerry Bahr of LaCrosse Central won the event with a pitch of 50 feet, 7 1/2 inches.

Sophomore high jumper Dave Burton had a mark of 5 feet, 7 inches in his specialty to tie Dick LaCarte of Wausau for fourth place. William Holden of Oconomowoc was the winner with a leap of 6 feet, 1 1/2 inches.

Freshmen broad jumper Dave Neubauer sprained an ankle playing basketball at the Brigade building last week and was unable to compete.

The Rocket 880 and spring medley relay teams failed to place although Mike Lintner ran a fine 2:04 in the half mile to anchor the medley team.

Wauwatosa won class W with 37 points. Defending champion Kenosha was second with 31.

Catholic Loop To Play Initial Tennis Slate

Pennings, Springs Launch Schedule; FVCC Meet May 25

Menasha — The Fox Valley Catholic conference will play its first tennis schedule this spring, beginning with a Friday match which sends DePere Pennings to Fond du Lac Springs.

The league will be made up of five teams, Pennings, Springs, St. Mary, Marinette Central Catholic and Green Bay Premontre. Each team will play the other four once.

Several league teams will meet other league opponents second time but they will be non-conference matches. The remainder of the schedule includes Springs at Premontre, April 26; Premontre at Pennings, April 28; Marinette Central at St. Mary, April 30; Pennings at St. Mary, May 3; Marinette Central at Pennings, May 7; St. Mary at Premontre, May 12; Springs at Marinette Central, May 14; St. Mary at Springs, May 20, and Premontre and Marinette Central, May 21.

The first conference meet will be played Thursday, May 26, at the St. Norbert college courts.

Premontre and Springs have had tennis for several seasons. St. Mary resumed the sport last spring after a lapse of 10 years and Pennings (then St. Norbert) and Marinette Central fielded teams on a limited basis last spring.

MHS Netters Face Shawano

Bluejays Attempt To Capture 2nd Successive Win

Menasha — Successful in its debut, Menasha's tennis squad will try to add the Indians' scalp when it plays at Shawano in its Mid-Eastern conference opener Tuesday afternoon.

The Bluejays halted Appleton 7-0 a week ago in their debut. Tuesday's match will inaugurate Shawano's season. The Indians have a new coach, Jack Crook, and an entirely new lineup. Of the 11 candidates, only one even played in exhibitions last year.

Jim Stenson, Fred Hollenbeck, Tom Krysiak, Dan Arft and Bill Ritchie all won their single matches against Appleton. John Bertram, the sixth letterman, was away and didn't compete.

The Bluejays shut out the Indians 7-0 in both of last year's meetings.

Inattentive Driver Forfeits, Involved In Car-Truck Crash

Menasha — Gerald L. Burke, 18, 222 Water street, forfeited $10 and costs Friday for inattentive driving. The charge was placed as a result of a 2-vehicle sideswipe Wednesday morning in the 300 block of Eighth street.

The truck he was driving and a car driven by Edward P. Faulks, 27, 225 High street, Neenah, crashed as Burke's truck was over the center line, police said.

At 2:39 p.m. Thursday, police investigated a 4-car pile-up at Third and Racine streets. The car operated by Mrs. Harlan Mueller, 623 Henry street, Neenah, struck the rear of the halted car of Donald Van Beek, 20, 816 Jefferson street. His car was pushed into the rear of the halted auto of Dennis Voss, 18, 516 Adams street, Neenah, which was pushed into the rear of that driven by John L. Sweet, 56, 114 Cherry street, Oshkosh. Van Beek, injured recently in another traffic accident, complained of a headache after Thursday's mishap.

40 at 8 Voiture Maps Nurse Training Help

Oshkosh — A fund-raising project to help a nurse in training occupied the attention of Voiture 751 of the 40 at 8 of Winnebago county at the Tayco restaurant in Menasha Thursday night.

Members also discussed a caravan to Green Lake county help organize a voiture in that county.

Election of officers will be at the next meeting in Neenah May 12.

Leading Scorers in the Junior Bowling league which closed its season with a tournament Saturday morning at Lakewood Lanes were Rich Staffeld, left, and Karen Dix. Both had 194 games.

Jay Trackmen Hope to Open Slate at Ripon

Triangular Scheduled Against Beaver Dam, Tigers; Beavers Boast Several Veterans

Menasha — Track conditions permitting, Menasha High school's cindermen will inaugurate their outdoor season with a triangular Tuesday afternoon at Ripon. Beaver Dam will be the third entry.

If the meet is postponed by conditions resulting from the weekend bad weather, it will mark the second straight year that such a situation has prevailed. Last spring a severe rainstorm forced its cancellation. The teams managed to get together two years ago and Menasha won the meet by two points, shading Beaver Dam 79 to 77. Ripon was third with 56.

Menasha goes into the meet with only five returning lettermen. It is paced by Dave Ristau, who competes in the dashes, relay and broad jump. He leads the returnees in scoring and was the fifth highest scorer on last year's squad, garnering 41 points.

Other returnees are Dexter Below, who competes in the hurdles and high jump; Pete LaValle, a hurdler; and Steve Hanchett and Bob Stumpf in the relays.

Other boys who saw action last year include Bill Gerhardt and Bob Cook, pole vaulters, and John Mayer and Jim Cleary, 880. Gerhardt also is expected to run the dashes. Coach Bernie LeRoy is expected to experiment with untiered boys in most of the events to prepare for a busy dual season which includes two meets per week for three straight weeks.

Beaver Dam will be a strong favorite in the opening triangular since it has several key performers who did well in the Madison West relays last weekend.

The big star is Merlin Norberg, who runs the dashes and throws the shot put. Norberg, a big scorer in the triangular as a sophomore two years ago, was second in the 60-yard dash at Madison. Paul Freund was second in the high jump.

Ripon, which hasn't been too strong in recent years, is expected to be weaker because its athletes only are allowed to participate in one spring sport this year.

The Tigers have a fine distance runner in Mike Campbell, who was second in the state Class B mile last spring and won the Class C cross country crown last fall.

Motorcyclist Hurt In Neenah Crash

Neenah — Donald H. Kofnetka, 23, 140 Wright avenue, was taken in the Neenah ambulance to Theda Clark hospital after his motorcycle ran into the rear of a telephone truck on N. Commercial street near Forest avenue at 3:12 p.m. Friday.

Kofnetka said he was headed south and had turned his head momentarily and when he turned back it was too late to avoid hitting the truck driven by Edwin R. Schwandt, 575 Grove street, which was stopped in the line of traffic.

Kofnetka somersaulted over the handlebars of his motorcycle against the rear of the truck and then slid down headfirst to the pavement. The full extent of his injuries was not known but included a pierced kneecap and a head laceration.

Firemen Called as Furnace Backfires

Neenah — Volunteer firemen from the joint towns of Neenah and Menasha department were called to the home of Mrs. Bernard Plette, 1014 Bayview road, at 12:20 a.m. Saturday when the oil burner backfired and blew off the pipes leading from the furnace.

Soot and smoke was scattered throughout the basement and into the house. The Neenah fire department was called first and its trucks were on their way when Mrs. Plette called back to say the house was in the town of Neenah.

There was no fire damage.

Oshkosh High Visits Zephyrs For FVC Games

Area Foes Slated To Meet Tuesday if Conditions Permit

Menasha — The weekend rain and snowfall not only ruined the Easter parade but also put St. Mary's scheduled home baseball opener against Oshkosh Tuesday on the doubtful list.

The Zephyrs and Indians are slated to meet in a Fox River Valley conference doubleheader at the Menasha ball park.

The Menashans came out of the first set of games at the league's only unbeaten team. They downed Fond du Lac 12-7 in a single game while Oshkosh split a doubleheader with Manitowoc.

The Indians have a veteran squad paced by returning hurlers Gary Johnson and Don Lehman. Johnson held Manitowoc to two hits in chalking up Oshkosh's 4-1 victory. Lehman, who is the regular catcher, when he isn't hurling, was the victim in the 4-2 loss to the Shipbuilders.

Coach Harland Quandt is well stocked with pitching material, the other candidates being Leon Lowther and southpaw Fred Russler, seniors; Glenn Miller, a junior; and Rick Fenn, a sophomore. Bill Becker and Tom Hanson are the likely St. Mary starting pitchers. Becker went the route in the win over Fond du Lac.

The conference standings between Fond du Lac and Manitowoc also was knocked out by the rain. They managed to get in two innings of the first game before it was cancelled.

St. Mary tops the circuit with a 1-0 record, Oshkosh and Manitowoc have 1-1 and Fond du Lac 0-1.

CYO, Grade School Squads Guests at Annual Program

Menasha — Eugene Clark, successful football and basketball coach at Appleton's Xavier High school, will be the main speaker at the St. John Athletic association dinner for its grade school and CYO teams at 6 p.m. Thursday at the St. John cafeteria.

Guests will include the St. John "A" and "B" teams and their coaches, Floyd Fenske, John Muske and Ray Swieczkowski, the cheerleaders, St. John CYO team and Coach John Koslowski and Ken Barker, coach of the St. John Holy Name and the Church league teams.

Jack VandenBoogaard of the Menasha High school athletic staff will be master of ceremonies. Don Verbrick and Ed Waskiewicz are dinner chairmen. Green Bay Packer and Milwaukee Braves films also will be shown.

"Torchy" Clark, a native of Oshkosh, starred in football and basketball at St. Mary High school and then went on to Marquette university. He coached at Gilman and the Appleton St. Mary grade school and ninth graders before being named Xavier's first coach.

Officers of the athletic association are Les Ashenbrenner, president; Waskiewicz, vice president; the Rev. Joseph Szupry, treasurer; and Ray Prange, secretary.

Will See Movie

Neenah — George Leary of the Wisconsin Telephone company will show a movie on "Voice Beneath the Sea" to the Optimists club at its meeting Tuesday noon at the Valley Inn.

Rubbish Collection

Menasha — Non-burnable waste materials will be collected Wednesday in district 1, the island and north to Chute street. Rubbish must be at curbs by 7 a.m.

Lang Clouts 639 Set In Mixed Pin League

Menasha — Erhardt "Hez-zie" Lang clouted a 243 game and 639 series to spear honors in the Mid-Town Mixed Couples Bowling league Sunday night at the Mid-Town alleys.

Bernie Lang clubbed a 233 game and 507 series to top the women, giving the Lang family a grand slam of honors. Other honor totals included a 577 series by Harold Becker, a 236 game and 564 three-somes by Dick Vils and "Hank" Plath's 557 trio.

First place Morton's Drugs didn't bowl Sunday night but owns a 74-game lead over a pair of runnerup teams. Yakes Rolls 233.

Sam Samolinski of the Mihm's Charcoal Grill team fired a 626 series and Bob Yakes of Club Terrace posted a 233 singleton to divide honors in the Menasha Men's league Friday night at the Mid-Town alleys.

Samolinski included a 231 game in his peak threesome while Yakes closed with a 594 set.

Runnerup series honors went to Ben Stepanski with a 624 count. He exceeded 200 in all of his games. Willie Karnopp slammed 596, Ray Doell 230-589, Roger Peterson 577, Bob Sharp 574, Dick Frakes 565, Joe Connen 568, Jack Lloyd 232-560, Bob Pontow 557 and Marlin Buss 556.

Valley Coffee Shop has clinched the championship on the basis of its 74-game lead with just one week of bowling remaining. The leaders have a 574-293 record.

The Twin City Women's league, which has two weeks of action left, did not bowl Friday night.

Church, Twin City Industrial Loops To Plan Seasons

Neenah — A pair of Twin City softball leagues will make plans for their 1960 seasons at organization sessions here tonight.

The Neenah Church league, the Twin Cities' oldest softball circuit, will hold its first session at 7 p.m. at the Recreation building. Last year the league had eight teams. St. Paul is defending champion.

Representatives of the Twin City Industrial league will gather at 7 p.m. at the Bergstrom Paper company meeting room. Last year the league had 13 teams which were divided into two divisions. Banta's is the defending titlist.

Hard-Hitting Report Given on Taxation

Three Men Say Industry Lag
Related to Tax Structure

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Madison — A hard-hitting report by a trio of members of the revenue survey commission bluntly claims there is a relation between the "industrial stagnation" of this state in recent years and its "unimaginative tax structure."

The formal comments of the three members of a subcommittee of the parent commission largely have been overlooked in the publicity given to the deliberations of the committee.

It is a significant statement of views of three members usually regarded as conservative in their fiscal approach. It also is probably meaningful for what it may show of the ultimate division of the whole commission in preparing a blueprint for tax reform for the guidance of the governor and legislature. The three authors of the report are John C. Lobb, a Milwaukee business executive, Assemblyman Glen Pommerening, Wauwatosa, a Republican assemblyman, and Howard Packard, president of a Racine manufacturing corporation.

They acted as members of a subcommittee studying revenue sources. Three others of the committee did not sign the document. They are Sen. Lynn Stalbaum, Racine, a Democratic legislative leader; James A. Martineau, Oconto, a lawyer, and Walter Burke, Milwaukee, an officer of the United Steelworkers union.

The trio endorsed the idea of a sales tax, with exemptions, to permit the reduction in local property taxes and personal property taxes.

Total Revision
They insist that a total revision of the state tax structure is needed, and that the incorporation of a sales tax with corresponding reductions in property taxes will make a tax system more "progressive" than the state has had.

As a public document representing the deliberations of members of an investigating committee, however, there is perhaps more significance in the flat assertions about the economic disadvantages of the state's traditional fiscal arrangements.

The committee asserts there is statistical proof of "industrial stagnation."

Corporation Tax
Last year the worth of new residential garage permits was greater than the total of factory construction, they went on.

Wisconsin already has a high corporation income tax, while some competitive near-by states have none. Wisconsin has one of the highest individual income tax rates in the country, and the highest on upper bracket incomes. "Yet we are running out of money," they observed.

Even to those who would use taxation for social purposes, to redistribute the wealth, it must be apparent that there simply is not enough wealth left in the higher brackets and in the corporate treasury.

Bluntly speaking, our system has been a failure; we have imposed the highest burdens of any of the states on our industry and our high income families and we have run into diminishing returns," their report declared.

Lobb, Pommerening and Packard told their colleagues that a combination of the sales tax with the personal income and corporation taxes now levied would mean that most citizens will pay less taxes than if all funds are raised by increased income taxes, while it will provide a chance to cut property taxes "the heaviest and most regressive taxes of all," and equalize the industrial tax burden with that of other states.

Eight Trains Delayed by Derailment in Green Bay

Post-Crescent News Service
Green Bay—A "hot box" on a car of a Sunday morning Chicago North Western railway freight train resulted in the derailing of six cars which blocked the North Western junction with Milwaukee road tracks on the south side for nearly 20 hours.

The derailment took place about 9:45 a.m. Sunday. A crew of 20 men worked until nearly 5:30 a.m. today before the six cars were back on the track and the damage repaired.

The blocked main line affected the routing of eight trains.

The morning northbound passenger train terminated at Appleton, and Green Bay passengers were taken by bus to Appleton where the southbound Valley 400 was started. Two northbound and two southbound passenger trains later in the day were rerouted over Milwaukee Road and Green Bay and Western lines tracks.

$3,000 Damage
The southbound train through Appleton, scheduled to arrive at 4:37 p.m. Sunday, was one of the trains rerouted and was over two hours

Sandra Church to Play New Teenage Role as Actress Ruth Gordon.

New York. — Pretty, copper-haired Sandra Church, who has become a star playing teen-age Gypsy Rose Lee in Ethel Merman's current Broadway musical hit, "Gypsy," may have struck an acting specialty.

Thursday Sandra will play young Ruth Gordon in the autobiographical play, "Years Ago," on CBS' Play of the Month. She was the actress-writer's personal choice for the role.

Sandra, a San Francisco girl, comes from a non-theatrical family.

English John Knowles Writes Touching Novel About Boys

BY W. G. ROGERS
AP Arts Editor

("A Separate Peace," by John Knowles. Macmillan, $3.50.)

A tree by the little river out beyond the playing fields, and a flight of slightly worn white marble steps in one of the academy buildings—it is to these two fearsome sites that Gene Forrester returns, and it is here that he begins the searing story of himself and his roommate Finny.

The place is Devon, a New England preparatory school. The time is 1942, with a war still to win and the boys are hung up on a common dilemma: To stay in class and wait for their country's call or enlist in a branch of service of their own choosing.

Gene and his friend Finny are under the pressure of extra summer-time courses. Finny, who acts the leader, entices Gene away from his books down to the river-bank, or off to the shore which is strictly out of bounds.

He dares Gene to jump from a limb of the tree to the water; with a big leap a boy can land where it's deep, but if he misses he's apt to break his back on the ground beneath.

One Boy Falls
Once Finny catches Gene just off balance and saves him from a dreadful fall. Then Finny, with Gene not far behind him, steps out for his jump and, as Gene tells it, "my knees bent and I lounced the limb."

It had occurred to Gene, in a flash of insight, that Finny's maneuvers to draw him away from his desk were Finny's way of assuring his own school-boy supremacy.

Finny excelled in sports. Gene outdid him in studies. The appearance of friendship masked Finny's guile, he didn't want Gene's company so much as he wanted Gene thwarted in his studies.

The friend was the enemy. Didn't he want to drag me down with him when he fell, Gene wonders accusingly; and Finny in traction in his hospital bed tells himself that he wants to forget, he insists, he "just fell," he regrets a suspicion which he felt but is careful not to define.

Serious Business
You will remember not only Gene and Finny but a handful of other boys, Brinker, "Leper," or Quackenbush. You will chuckle at their wit and laugh at their "Winter Carnival" high jinks.

But this is frighteningly serious business, at bottom. For a mere caprice, for a random flare-up, a life is lost and a life is turned topsy-turvy. An error, a misjudgment, the pettiest misunderstanding can be as deadly as gun or knife.

This brilliant picture of boys and their triumphs and their hurts makes a remarkably touching novel.

2 Men Pay for Tipsy Driving

One Fined, Other Forfeits Bond;
Both Lose Licenses

One driver was fined and another forfeited bond on drunken driving charges today.

William F. Heckel, 22, of 133 Irene street, Neenah, pleaded guilty and was fined $125 this morning by Menasha Police Justice Arthur J. Ales. Heckel's driver's license was revoked for one year.

Heckel was arrested at 1:02 a.m. today after his car skidded into a light pole on Washington street, Menasha. A passenger, Miss Carol Stoegebauer, 23, of 106 1/2 Main street, Neenah, suffered a facial cut and had several teeth loosened in the accident.

Heckel tested .17 on the drunkometer. A reading of .15 is considered evidence of drunkenness.

Leonard W. Heinel, 53, route 1, Appleton, failed to appear in municipal court today and forfeited $168.95 for drunken driving.

He was arrested March 30 after his car left Highway 45 and hit a fence post. He was unable to take the drunkometer test, county police said.

Schulz Brothers To Open New Music Business

Birthdays at Woodlawn School are celebrated in high style every two months instead of with frequent little parties. Among the guests of honor at the Woodlawn birthday dinner Thursday were, seated from left, Miss Ethel Steidl; Janis Ruwoldt, Susan Dreier and Randis Marquardt, who celebrated birthdays; and Harry Steffen, county supervising teacher. Serving them were students, standing from left, Dawn Immel, Kenneth Evilsizor, Sandra Olson and Kenneth Geiger. Mrs. John Berben, principal, stands watching.

These Days Crackdown on Expense Accounts Shows Ignorance of Business Ways

BY GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

New York — A phenomenon of American business is the expansion of the expense account as an additional form of salary, just as the stock option is an additional form of salary. These are fringe benefits for management, just as the workers require fringe benefits in addition to wages. As competent management is hard to find, corporations have found it necessary to make attractive offers of expense accounts and stock options.

The reason for this is the unconscionable income tax which deprives the more competent of the nation of the fruits of their talents. Every prudent man seeks to set up an estate for his wife and children, and as our obligations to all parts of the world are such that the American has to be taxed, even to provide birth control literature, this is difficult without a gimmick. So the income tax has become the mother of gimmicks.

Now the treasury announces that it is going to perform mayhem on the expense account. The substance of the new arrangement is: Internal Revenue agents will be instructed to ascertain whether the employer is obtaining acceptable and satisfactory accounting for expenses from its officers and employees. If the Internal Revenue service agent finds that the method used and the information submitted is not in accordance with acceptable business and accounting standards the expenses may be disallowed as a deduction by the employer and the personal returns of the employees will be examined unless they have included in their gross income the amount of the expenses for which they have been reimbursed.

Bureaucratic Ignorance
That means no more swindle sheets; no more expenses that cannot be absolutely associated with the business in hand; no more yachts, or rent paid for additional homes, or no more company payments for private parties. Half the swank restaurants in New York will have to shut down, for they thrive on the expense account.

Apparently, the treasury does not want the buyers to feel good. In fact, the buyers might find it more cheerful to buy Italian or German or Japanese goods. They will do it.

Government bureaucrats are usually not familiar with sales practices. If they believe that business is only done from nine to five, they disclose their proletarian ignorance. Business is done whenever and wherever it is convenient. "Sure, Jake is a good fellow. I'll give him a break" — every salesman knows what that means.

Economic Weapon
But to the bureaucrat, with an I. B. M. mind, it can mean nothing, except that the salesman is working overtime and should get time-and-a-half pay and that the buyer goes in for payola and should be exposed. If these underpaid minions of bureaucracy keep it up, we shall soon have no business at all, because nowhere else in the world are such policies pursued and no one needs to buy from those who sell with so little wit.

So the expense account is to be monitored beyond common sense and all company accountants have been notified that if a fellow is caught without suitable dress for an occasion which is important for his business, if he charges

Bomb Explosion Kills 1, Hurts 2

Cortland, N. Y. — An attempt by three youths to shoot stolen black-powder bombs ended with one dead, one injured critically and the third hospitalized with burns, state police report.

Troopers said one of the youths attempted to throw a lighted bomb out the window of an automobile early Sunday morning. The bomb fell into the back seat and exploded several other bombs.

Jack A. Bush, 14, was killed. James Aungler, also 14, lost his left leg and suffered severe burns. He was reported in critical condition in Cortland Memorial hospital. Walter Pierce, 17, was reported in good condition with minor burns.

The outfit to his company as a sound business expense, he is in real trouble.

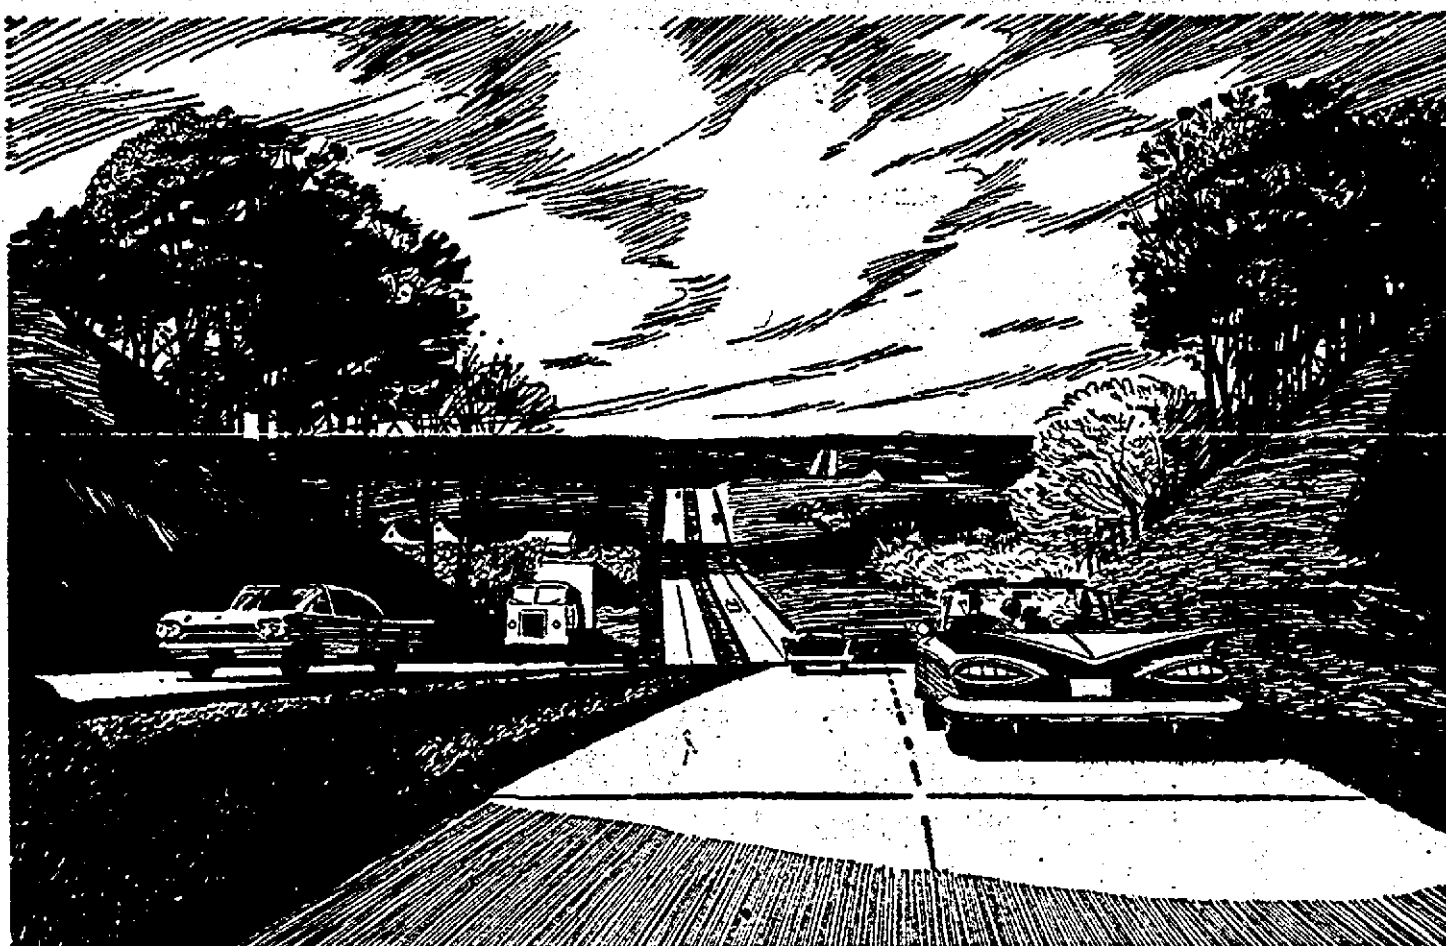

The income tax has become a weapon of economic destruction. Not only are small men unable to form sufficient capital to protect their families against a bleak, bearish future, but business itself is deprived of many tools to the advantage of foreign traders who are not disadvantaged in a like manner. The paltry-paid bureaucratic clerk who prepares memoranda on this or that to form policy is incapable of understanding what it takes to operate a business in a competitive world. He seeks a pension.

The PROGRESS of Pharmacy and Medicine

Pharmacy Today . . . and Tomorrow

Pharmacy embraces an entire galaxy of specialized services related to pharmacy . . . and includes research with chemists, biochemists, physicists, physiologists, biologists, mycologists, and men and women possessed of knowledge and experience in many fields of activity from atomic to zoologic.

Pharmacy Today and Tomorrow . . . will continue to be a great profession and to grow. As This Great Heritage and Tradition of Service Is Passed on From Preceptor to Intern, From Professor to Student, and From Father to Son.

From beginnings as simple and remote as the cave-man days, before the dawn of history, pharmacy was first adapted. Ancient man undoubtedly first learned to assuage his wounds with materials at hand through sheer instinct. When injured because of a fall, a cut or a wound from a club or stone axe, he instinctively clapped a leaf, mud, dirt or cool water over the wound to relieve pain and staunch the flow of blood. Recorded history as it pertains to the art of apothecary takes us back but forty to forty-five centuries. The thread of knowledge of drugs and their preparation is woven faintly but firmly into the development pattern of mankind from the dawn of understanding. It continued as man first began to record his deeds and thoughts. It has developed into a strong cord of experience and understanding which through the centuries has never been sundered.

Two persons were hurt this morning when a car caromed off a truck at Highways 45 and 76, forcing a stake truck into the path of an oncoming car.

Taken to Appleton Memorial hospital by Larry's ambulance were Mrs. Celia Jones, 19, Chicago, with a broken shoulder and knee injury, and the Rev. Walter Schedler, route 1, Bear Creek, with severe multiple cuts about the face and neck.

Shields Wife Mrs. Jones was saved from more serious injury when her husband shielded her with his body when he saw the accident was unavoidable.

County Policeman Charles Staidl said Jones pulled onto Highway 45 and into the path of a stake truck driven by David L. Clark, 19, route 1, Hortonville. The truck went into the path of a car driven by the Rev. Mr. Schedler, then overturned in the ditch.

Seven persons were hurt and taken to Appleton Memorial in two Larry's ambulances after a 2-car crash at Highways 10 and 76 Sunday afternoon.

Ignored Sign A car driven by Robert Wheeler, 41, Chicago, collided with one driven by Wesley O. Hickox, 42, Marshfield, after the Hickox car failed to stop for a stop sign on Highway 76, county Policeman Stanley Arnold said.

Wheeler got a cut forehead, concussion and knee injury. In his car, his wife, Vetra, also 41, received possible broken ribs, chest injuries and a concussion; John Patyk, 14, head cuts, arm injury and concussion, and Robert Patyk, 13, bruises and a concussion.

Hickox got a bruised knee, his wife, Josephine, also 42, fractured ribs, and their daughter, Joan, 17, received possible kidney injuries.

BY JEAN HAMMOND OTTO
They say spring fever's a disease. You see it in teenagers who amble slowly down the street, open-coated and dreamy-eyed. You see it in the housewife who suddenly has the urge to take down the curtains and literally tear the house apart. And in the man who one evening, without warning, spreads rods and reels and fishing tackle all over the kitchen table. Spring itself has many unique facets — to its personality.

A pickup truck goes by and the man in the back gently supports the tender stalk of a potted leafy tree.

St. Regis Offers Stock Exchange For Packager

St. Regis Paper company has offered to exchange 1.02 shares of its common stock for every share of the outstanding common stock of Creamery Packaging Manufacturing company, of Chicago.
St. Regis announced in January it was negotiating to acquire the concern, which makes equipment for processing dairy and food products.
Creamery Packaging has 300,771 shares outstanding. This makes a maximum of 306,787 shares of St. Regis stock involved in the offering.
St. Regis said it would declare the offer of exchange effective if, by the expiration date of May 31, 95 per cent of Creamery Packaging stock has been offered. However, it indicated it may also declare the offer effective if an amount not less than 80 per cent is offered for exchange.
White, Weld and company, investment bankers, have been named to handle the solicitation of shares.

Automaker Pays Ransom Without Seeing Kidnap

Paris—A millionaire auto maker Roland Peugeot handed over the ransom that bought his 4-year-old son's freedom without ever seeing the kidnaper who took the money.

Police, working on a slim file of clues they hope will help lead to the abductors of Eric Peugeot, gave this account of last Thursday's payoff:

The kidnaper instructed Peugeot over the telephone to stand at an arcade between two streets near the Arch of Triumph. He was told to hold the ransom in a briefcase beneath his left arm. A man would come up behind him, say "keep the key" and slip the briefcase from beneath his arm.

Man Arrives.

At the appointed time the man came up, gave the password, twice warned "Don't turn around," and fled with the ransom. Eric was found safe on a sidewalk eight hours later.

The kidnappers asked $100,000 ransom but Peugeot did not say how much he paid.

All the police have said they have to go on is a lipstick smudge, two typewritten notes, two fingerprints on one of the notes, a tire track and the numbers on the ransom bills.

Mystery of Famed Wisconsin Football Player Heads Potpourri

BY CHARLES HOUSE
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

POTPOURRI — One of the biggest sports-related mysteries of Wisconsin was the disappearance of Pat O'Dea who was so great a football player for the University of Wisconsin in his time — the 1890's — that he is remembered to this day.

One of his kicking feats is well authenticated. Playing against the University of Illinois at Milwaukee on Nov. 11, 1899, O'Dea drop kicked from the 60-yard line. The ball sailed straight and true in a 20-mile-an-hour cross-wind. It sailed, also, over the bleachers, over the fence beyond them and into the street — a kick which sent the ball a total of at least 80 yards in the air.

Authenticated, too, is the fact that no O'Dea punt was ever blocked in competition.

After graduation, O'Dea coached at Notre Dame and at Missouri. Then he moved to California and dropped into oblivion. He was avidly sought by sportswriters and football fans, but he had disappeared without a trace. At length it was generally assumed that he had been a war casualty and the search for him was dropped.

In 1934, 15 years after O'Dea's disappearance, he was found by a writer of the San Francisco Chronicle. He had found, he said, "the man who could curve a football like a pitcher curves his throw."

O'Dea had grown tired of public adulation, had changed his name to C. J. Mitchell, and had lived the quiet life of a respected businessman.

What kind a job do you have? Some of the fields of occupation from years long gone sound like nothing we know about today. Is there a wharfinger among us? (That's the owner of a wharf, naturally). Is there a coach trimmer, a bell hanger, a hay wigher, an ornamental handwriter, a fence viewer, a mesmeric examiner, a town crier, a boot crimp, a hoop and barrel stave culler, a captain of the watch, or a measurer of upper leather? Have all these elegant-sounding jobs disappeared from the modern world?

Incidentally, Buffalo Bill did not earn that title in the sport of hunting buffalo. He did it by wholesale for he had a contract to supply buffalo meat for the horde of construction crews working on the Kansas Pacific railroad in 1867-1868. He was obliged to provide the crews with 12 buffalos each day for the stipend of $500 a month. And while we're quibbling, maybe you'd like to recall that the American buffalo is not a buffalo at all, but a bison. Fellow's name!

Last week's treatise here on the subject of life expectancy may have been a little grim, but it could have evoked some good intentions by which you can roughly determine the years left for you, on the basis of average expectancy: Start with the number 80 and from it subtract your present age. Multiply the remainder by seven. Divide the result by 10. Your answer will be the probable number of years you have left of life. Use them well.

And here's another formula you may wish to try if for nothing but fun. On the basis of estimates made by educators, the average man knows and uses about 8,000 words. Shakespeare, however, knew and used about 24,000—so say the folks who think about such things and research them.

If you want to find out if you're above or below average, take any five pages of your dictionary. From those pages, list every word you know and can use properly. Divide the number of words you know by the number five. Then multiply the result by the number of words in the dictionary which you used in the test. Roughly, that should give you a fair indication of the words in your vocabulary—so says a dictionarian.

I tried the test and attempted to be painfully honest. I flipped to the L-M section and listed only words I was sure of. I did not count the varieties of specific words which I knew. For example, I took credit for knowing "macadamize" and no credit for knowing "macadamize". Perhaps I was too objective, but I scored only 6,300—1,700 fewer words than is in the vocabulary of the average citizen. Please don't tell the boss.

Social Security

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q. I am entitled to $33 on my own social security record and I also receive $18 on my husband's record, making a total of $51. My husband expects to go back into business next year and will earn too much to get benefits. How will this affect my benefits?

A. You cannot receive a benefit on your husband's social security record for any month that he is not eligible to receive a benefit. You will continue to receive the benefit on our own social security record unless you go to work and earn more than $1200 a year.

Q. My client inherited a business on the death of her husband. Though she does not work, she still has annual self-employment income well over $1200. Why do they pay her widow's benefits when she earns over $1200?

A. According to the retirement test, a self-employed beneficiary under age 72 can receive benefits any month or months he or she does not render substantial service regardless of the amount of earnings. Since the widow is not working she is entitled to payments.

Q. Could a widow receive a portion of her husband's social security check if he died in the middle of the month?

A. No. Payments terminate with the month preceding the month of the event.

Q. I am a 64-year-old physician not covered by social security. I own a farm and rent it on a 50-50 crop share basis. Would my farm income come under social security if I participate in the management of the farm?

A. You should contact your local social security office. From the limited information you have furnished regarding your farming arrangement, it is not possible to tell whether you come under social security or not.

The social security administration office is in the courthouse annex, 401 S. Main street, Appleton.

Tormenting Rectal Itch Stopped In Minutes

Science Finds New Healing Substance That Promptly Stops Itching and Pain of Piles

New York, N. Y. (Special) — One of the most common afflictions is a condition known as "itching piles." It is most embarrassing for the victim during the day and especially aggravating at night when itching torture keeps one awake.

No matter what you've used in the past without results—here's good news for you. Now, for the first time, science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to promptly stop the burning itch and pain. It actually shrinks hemorrhoids—without surgery. Medical science has proved this substance produces a remarkably effective rate of healing. Its germ-killing properties also help prevent infection.

In one hemorrhoid case after another "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations. And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of months! Among these sufferers were a wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' duration.

The secret is this new healing substance (Bio-Dyne*)—discovery of a world-famous research institution. This substance is now obtainable in ointment or suppository form known as Preparation H.* Ask for Preparation H suppositories (convenient to carry if away from home) or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Absolute satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded. For free trial package write to Preparation H, P.O. Box 1910, Dept. J, New York 46, N. Y.

Kimberly High Wins Class B Crown in Madison Relays

AHS Scores 4 Points in 'A' Division

Led by brilliant Darrell Jansen, the Kimberly Papermakers won the Madison West relays Class B title for the first time in school history Saturday.

Jansen Rooyackers

Appleton High school scored four points in Class A competition, while Neenah tallied 31.

Wauwatosa dethroned Kenosha for the Class A title. The new champs tallied 37 points to 31 for Kenosha, which had placed first two straight years.

Jansen jumped 6 feet, 2 and 1/8 inches for a Class B high jump record. He also ran on the high hurdles shuttle relay team (with Bill Timmers and Tom Rooyackers) which clicked off a :23.0, breaking the old mark of :23.2 established by Platteville in 1956.

The former high jump standard was 6 feet 1 1/2 inches, set by Dick James of Dodgeville in 1957. Three other Class A records were broken.

Second to Dix Rooyackers placed second in the broad jump, while Jansen was second in the 70-yard low hurdles to record-breaking Gene Dix of Marshfield (:08.1). Joe Mitchell of Kimberly was fourth in the Class B mile.

The Appletton sprint medley and 880-yard relay units both placed fifth. Running on the sprint medley team were Cal Klues, 440; Dave Reinke and Wayne Polzin, each 220; and Bill Weber, 880.

Billy Hurls Three Hitless Innings, Starts Winning Rally; Dodgers Trim Cardinals

By The Associated Press

San Francisco's major winter trade that sent outfielder Jackie Brandt to Baltimore for pitchers Billy O'Dell and Billy Loes has paid its first dividend of the infant National league season.

"Loes, the unpredictable" was "Loes, the magnificent" Sunday. The 30-year-old reliever ace not only hurled three hitless and runless innings but singled in the bottom of the fourteenth and scored the run that gave the Giants a 4-3 triumph over the Chicago Cubs.

Remain in Deadlock

Third baseman Jimmy Davenport, whose late-season injury was a big factor in the Giants' 1959 collapse, drove in the tie-breaking run with a single off relief pitcher Ben Johnson.

The victory enabled the Giants to remain in a first-place deadlock with the Los Angeles Dodgers. The defending

Frick Asks CL To Take More Positive Action

Los Angeles — Baseball Commissioner Ford C. Frick says the Continental league should take a little more positive action.

Frick, replying to remarks of William Shea, leader in the quest by New York for another major league team, said Sunday that the new league has not qualified on a single point for major league status.

Frick said the requirements for qualification as a major league were spelled out last year and that the Continental league accepted them.

Shea charged that the established majors were making no effort to assist the new league.

Stan Musial of the St. Louis Cardinals has to do some acrobatics to make this 1-handed catch of a foul off the bat of Bob Lillis of the Los Angeles Dodgers in the eighth inning of Sunday's game in L.A. Stan had to go around the end of a photographers' pit and atop a rolled-up tarp to get the ball. The Dodgers won the game, 7-5.

Ray Hits Bases-Full 2-Bagger

Philadelphia, Pa. — (AP) — Manager Charlie Dressen started Ray Boone at first base for the Milwaukee Braves Sunday because he thought the 36-year-old infielder was a good curve ball hitter.

So what happened? Boone hit a fast ball for a 3-run double.

Boone's blow, coupled with Eddie Mathews 2-run homer helped give Bob Buhl and the Braves an easy 8-4 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies. Mathews' homer in the seventh was the 300th of his career. He also had a triple and a double.

Came From KC

Boone, who came to Milwaukee from Kansas City last year after 12 years in the American league, was used at first base because Joe Adcock came up with a bad back and Frank Torre, the No. 1 understudy, is in a Milwaukee hospital with a possible kidney infection.

"I remember Boone from the American league as a pretty good curve hitter," Dressen said. "So I decided to use him because Robin Roberts (Philadelphia hurler) throws a lot of curves."

"Then the ball Boone hits for that double comes off a fast ball."

The victory gave Milwaukee two out of three in the series with the Phillies and a 3-1 record for the young National league season.

Buhl allowed only six hits but three of them were bases-empty home runs. Harry Anderson got two and Bobby Del Greco had the other.

Robin Roberts started for Philadelphia and held the Braves to one run through the first five innings. The Braves clubbed him with a 4-run attack in the sixth and knocked him out in the seventh.

Buhl, meanwhile was tough through the first seven innings.

Charlie Mohr Dies Of Brain Injury

Coach Woodward Terms Boxer's Death 'A Great, Tragic Loss'

Madison — (AP) — Charles Mohr, 22, University of Wisconsin boxer who suffered a brain injury in a collegiate title bout April 9, died Sunday.

"His death is a great tragic loss," said Coach Vern Woodward. "Charlie was symbolic of all that is fine in college boxing."

Mohr died without regaining consciousness from the time he was admitted to the hospital, less than an hour after he walked out of the ring following a National Collegiate Athletic association 165-pound title bout with Stu Bartell of San Jose State.

The fight was stopped in the second round after Mohr fell under Bartell's attack. He jumped to his feet and took a mandatory 9-count but remained dazed and defenseless. Mohr was rushed to a hospital when he complained to team physician Dr. John H. Flinn that he felt sleepy. By the time the ambulance arrived, Mohr was unconscious.

A team of surgeons tried to stop the bleeding of Mohr's massive brain hemorrhage during a 3-hour operation. From the outset, Mohr's chances were listed as minimal.

The immediate cause of death was failure of vital centers in the brain to respond. Mohr's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mohr, and his sisters, Carole and Joan, returned to the family's Merrick, N.Y., home Sunday. The funeral tentatively was scheduled for Wednesday morning.

A southpaw noted for his ability to escape punishing blows, it was the first knockdown for Mohr in his collegiate career. He entered the tournament to defend his championship and was regarded as the favorite. Mohr had outpointed Bartell by a decisive margin in a bout one week earlier.

Mohr enrolled at Wisconsin because of his love for boxing, a sport he became interested in when he was 10 years old. At Wisconsin, Mohr was undefeated in 10 bouts as a junior and had lost only two of nine bouts this year before his meeting with Bartell.

BRAGGS, GONZALES Sign for Bout

Milwaukee — Milwaukee lightweight Billy Braggs and Andro Gonzales of Pittsburgh have been signed for a 6-round bout April 25 in the arena. The fight will headline a live card supporting a closed circuit television bout between heavyweights Sonny Liston and Roy Harris.

Detroit Acquires Colavito in Trade For Harvey Kuenn

Detroit — (AP) — The Detroit Tigers have parted with Harvey Kuenn, the American league's top hitter of 1959, to put more long-ball punch in their lineup.

Rumors to the contrary, the American league does plan to play baseball this year.

As a matter of fact, Joe Cronin's circuit has to get going today with its traditional opener in the nation's capital. President Eisenhower even interrupted his Georgia vacation to fly up to Washington to throw out the first ball in the game between the Senators and Boston Red Sox.

7 Days Later

On Tuesday, exactly seven days after the National league raised the 1960 curtain, all teams will open a full-scale drive for the flag currently held by the Chicago White Sox. According to most of the experts and the betting gentry, this figures to be a waste of effort by all but the White Sox, New York Yankees and Cleveland Indians.

The league closed out exhibition action Sunday. Boston beat New York, 2-0, for the third straight spring victory over the Yankees.

Rocky Colavito homered in his last game in Cleveland uniform as the Indians nipped the White Sox 2-1. Detroit defeated Kansas City 5-4, and Baltimore walloped Richmond 9-2.

The Sox shut was fashioned by Ted Bowsfield, Frank Sullivan and Jerry Casale. Ted Williams drove in the first run.

Bettis Says All 7 Wins Provided Great Thrills

Colt Loss in Milwaukee Leads Poll; Forester, Gremminger Optimistic About '60

Post-Crescent News Service
Green Bay—Packer player Tom Bettis can't decide which of the seven Packer victories was the most thrilling to him.
"All seven of them were the greatest thrills to me. I've never had the pleasure of doing a lot of winning with the Packers but I certainly did last year. I vote for all seven of them because they all put us back on the winning trail."
Packer players, in case you missed the boat, are being polled on the following questions: (1) Which win gave you the biggest thrill in '59; (2) Which was the toughest loss; and (3) What do you think of the Packers' chances in 1960.
Latest to submit answers besides Bettis are Bart Starr, Em Tunnell, Bill Forester and Hank Gremminger. Their votes, plus those revealed earlier, gave the Colt loss in Milwaukee a lead in that category but leaves the greatest win in a tie. The Bear win here and the win over the 49ers in San Francisco are tied with 5 votes apiece. The Colt game has seven votes; the loss to the Bears in Chicago four.

Toughest Loss
Bettis, now a salesman, started the push toward the Colt game as the toughest loss. "That not only was my toughest loss, it was the toughest for the entire team," Tom said.
Starr, sports director for radio station WATV in Birmingham, Ala., picked the final 49er game as the best to win. "We had our backs to the wall early when they mounted a 14-0 lead and the

Mauch Still Certain Phils Have A Future Despite Slow Start

Philadelphia —(AP)— Maybe nice guys do finish last, but Gene Mauch, the Philadelphia Phillies' new manager, is still talking like a nice guy and still certain the Phillies have a future.
"Naturally, I'm disappointed to lose my first two games as a major league manager," said Mauch, "but I knew what the situation was when I accepted the job. We weren't the club to sweep the National league."
Mauch had just watched the Phillies fall apart in the sixth inning Sunday and lose to the Milwaukee Braves, 8-4. The day before, Mauch's first as a manager, the Phillies lost to Milwaukee, 13-3.
The 34-year-old pilot came cold to the job when Eddie Sawyer suddenly quit last Thursday. Mauch was called ings, giving up home runs to Del Greco in the second and Anderson in the fourth. These were the only Phillies' hits to that point. Three singles, coupled with a wild pitch accounted for a Philadelphia score in the eighth and Anderson got his second homer in the ninth.

Mathews scored the first Milwaukee run in the fourth, tripling and coming home on Al Spangler's single. Anderson, however, sent the Phillies out in front in the last half of the fourth with his homer.
In the sixth Milwaukee loaded the bases on "Red" Schoendienst's single, Mathews double and a walk to Spangler. Boone then cleared the sacks with his double and came home on Del Crandall's single.
Bill Bruton's single, followed by Mathews' home run in the seventh sent Roberts to the showers.
A Bruton double, a single by Schoendienst and a sacrifice fly by Hank Aaron wrapped up the Braves scoring in the ninth.

fourteenth. After Don Blasingame sacrificed Loes to second, Davenport came through with his second single to end the 4-hour contest.
1st ad Giants defeat 230-3 Spt Orlando Cepeda hit his season's second homer, a 400-foot 2-run shot in the sixth to tie the game at 3.
Larry Sherry, star of the 1959 world series, won his first game of the season but he needed home run help from Gil Hodges, Duke Snider and Wally Moon. The righthander also needed pitching help from Sandy Koufax, who stopped the Cards without a run in the last three innings. Stan Musial banged his first homer of the season for the Redbirds.
Pirates Explode
Held to five harmless hits through eight runless innings of the second game, the Pirates exploded for six safeties in the bottom of the ninth to overcome a 5-0 deficit against Cincinnati.
When Pittsburgh came up for its last turn at bat, Red manager Fred Hutchinson replaced Raul Sanchez with southpaw Bill Henry, the fine relief pitcher Cincinnati acquired from the Cubs during the winter.
After retiring the first batter, Henry gave up singles to Smoky Burgess, Bill Virdon and Bill Mazeroski for one run. Hal Smith, a pinch hitter, then slammed a 3-run homer. Ted Wiend got the second out but Dick Groat followed with a single and Bob Skinner climaxed the winning rally with a 2-run homer.
Friend was masterful in picking up his victory in the opener. Roberto Clemente's two-run homer off loser Joe Nuxhall in the first inning was all the veteran right-hander needed.

Snead Wins at Greensboro for Seventh Time

Breaks Nelson's Tourney Record By One Stroke
Greensboro, N. C. —(AP)— The incredible story of Sam Snead and the Greater Greensboro Open Golf tournament continues.
The one-time Virginia hill-billy, who now plays out of a swank White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., resort club, has won here again — for the seventh time.
When Sam accepted the winner's $2,800 check Sunday after posting a 14-under par 270 score for 72 holes it brought his Greensboro earnings to $21,600 since he won

Cubs Doing Poorly in Extra-Inning Games

2 of 3 Setbacks Have Come in Overtime Sessions
Chicago —(AP)— This could be the season in which the Chicago Cubs fare better — if they avoid extra-inning baseball games.
The Cubs dropped a 4-3 decision in 14 innings at San Francisco Sunday to close their opening swing of the West coast, where they split in two games with Los Angeles and dropped two of three at San Francisco.
The Cubs now have a 2-3 record and two of their defeats have come in extra innings. They took a 3-0 lead in three innings against the Giants and then were blanked the rest of the way.
Bases-Full Single
Del Rice doubled home a run in the second inning and the first tournament held here in 1938.

It boosted his official earnings in the three major tournaments he's played this year to $9,325. He won at Bradenton, Fla., last month in his first outing, was tied for eleventh in the Masters and won here.
Snead closed with a 69, two under par, by making birdies on the last two holes to give him a 2-shot margin over Dow Finsterwald of Tequesta, Fla. Finsterwald finished with 68 to 272, worth $1,900.
Snead fashioned rounds of 68-66-67-69 in breaking by one shot the tournament record for the 6,651-yard Starmount Forest Country club course set 15 years ago by Byron Nelson.
Don Whitt, of Barrego Springs, Calif., closing with the day's best round, 66, was third at 277 to win $1,400. Len Woodward of Sydney, Australia, was fourth at 278.

Seaway Future Will Justify Its Existence

Administrator Makes Comment at Annual Transport Parley

Syracuse, N. Y. — Future developments will amply justify the existence of the St. Lawrence seaway, seaway administrator Lewis G. Castle says.

Castle, who delivered the Harry E. Salzberg lecture at the 12th annual transportation conference at Syracuse university Monday, said this country may view the seaway operation with justifiable pride.

He spoke after a representative of the American Association of Railroads had criticized the seaway toll structure and a port director had defended the waterway between the Great Lakes and the Atlantic Ocean.

Castle said that "with the continued dredging of Great Lakes channels and harbors, with the spreading of information about the economies and conveniences of the seaway, and with the added stimulation of traffic by Great Lakes ports and ship lines, we shall amply justify this new avenue of commerce."

Syracuse Chancellor William P. Tolley cited Castle "for distinguished contributions to transportation."

Throttle Seaway

H. C. Brockel, director of Milwaukee's municipal port, charged that Atlantic seaboard ports and their rail and ocean carriers were determined to throttle the seaway.

He cited the New York Central railroad in particular and said the Central would use any device short of mayhem to stifle seaway traffic.

A trucking industry representative, Welby M. Frantz, said the seaway's impact on trucking depended largely upon the kinds of cargo carried.

Frantz, president of the American Trucking association, said only 9 per cent of the 20 million tons of seaway cargo carried last year was general cargo. The rest was bulk cargo, which is not generally hauled by trucks, he said.

Schoendienst Leads Braves' Batting, Says He's Not Surprised at Showing

Milwaukee — Who's surprised about the amazing comeback of veteran Red Schoendienst of the Milwaukee Braves?

Just about everyone in baseball — except the 37-year-old infielder himself.

"I don't know why everyone is surprised at the way I've come back," Red said Sunday night after the Braves returned to Milwaukee from Philadelphia.

"It certainly doesn't surprise me. I said all the time that I'd be back there as good as I ever was."

A year ago Red was flat on his back in St. Louis, recovering from lung surgery after being stricken with tuberculosis. He was out most of 1959, rejoining the team the final two weeks of the season and playing in only five games.

Today Red is leading the Braves regulars in batting with an average of .500 on eight hits in 16 times at bat. He had 4-for-4 Saturday and 2-for-5 Sunday and has driven in three runs. He has started all four games played by Milwaukee this year.

The amazing redhead said earlier he expected to play 100 games for the Braves this year. Now he has upped that estimate to 125.

Red's fine play has prompted Manager Charlie Dressen to give up his search for another second baseman.

"I feel better now than I did in the spring of 1958," Schoendienst said. "I'm hitting the ball better than I was in the spring of 1958 when I still was bothered by a groin injury I got in the '37 world series. I feel strong and I don't get tired."

"I was worried about second base this spring," Dressen said, "but only at the plate. I knew Chuck Cottier could do the job in the field but I was concerned about how the kid would do at the plate."

"Schoendienst had just had this serious operation and I had to be realistic. Frankly, I didn't count too much on him. Then I saw him cut loose with the bat in the spring — and I knew my worries were over."

Goes All Out

"Boy that guy goes all out. Even in practice he shifts over to short and third — he's amazing."

Cottier, who has relieved the Redhead three times so far this season has 1-for-2 at the plate and also is batting .500. Schoendienst is high on him.

"This kid, Cottier is a good ball player," Red said. "We are not going to get hurt when he goes in there — whether it's the third, sixth or eighth inning. He can handle that spot as well as I."

The Braves have an open day today and Tuesday but get back into action here Wednesday against Cincinnati.

Gene Fullmer Proves to be Busy Champ

Will Collect $100,000 for Giardello Bout

By The Associated Press
Many a freshly crowned boxing champion has vowed to be a "fighting champion." Not many actually follow through.

Not so with Gene Fullmer. The NBA middleweight king believes in being a busy champion and backs it up with action in the ring. He is making it pay off, too.

The 28-year-old ex-mine worker from West Jordan, Utah, will collect $100,000 for taking on 29-year-old Joey Giardello of Philadelphia in defense of his NBA middleweight crown Wednesday night. They will meet in a television (ABC 9 CST) 15-rounder in the field house of Montana State college at Bozeman.

Fullmer won NBA recognition as 160-pound champion by beating Carmen Basilio last Aug. 28. Then he took on the leading challenger in "Spider" Webb and beat him in a 15-round title scrap at Logan, Utah, Dec. 4.

If he wins, Fullmer wants to fight again in a couple of months. If he loses to the underdog Giardello they will meet in a return bout.

Archers' Shoot Has 3-Way Tie in 3:49.6 but were almost 9 seconds behind the record-breaking 3:40.8 of Wauwatosa.

Klueck did his leg in about :55.5, Reinke and Polzin each were in the :23 flat vicinity and Weber was down at about 2:06.

"The Terror 880-yard relay unit was made up of Reinke, Polzin, Klueck and Pete Katura. Their unofficial time was 1:37.1 as opposed to 'Tosa's' winning 1:35.1. Reinke and Polzin, as in the sprint medley, again paced the Terror effort.

Running the mile in place of Lardold Lodholz, Phil Nordgren turned up with a 4:58 clocking. Appleton's only qualifier in lane running events was Jim Hill, who qualified for the semi-finals but not the finals in the 60-yard dash. Dave LaViolette jumped the gun twice in the low hurdles, an event in which he had qualified last year.

Leading Class A scorers after Wauwatosa and Kenosha were: Madison West, 214; Sheboygan Central, 21, and Rockford (Ill.), East, 18.

Tidwell Sets American Mark of :20.2 in 220

Outdoor Track Season Moves Into High Gear

By The Associated Press

The U.S. outdoor track season moved into high gear last weekend with top Olympic prospects performing in five meets scattered from coast to coast.

Charlie Tidwell of Kansas and Hayes Jones of Eastern Michigan turned in the top performances.

Tidwell bettered the world record for the 220-yard dash around a turn when he was caught in 20.2 seconds in a 5-team meet at Abilene, Texas.

Only two watches were on him, so the mark won't be submitted as a world record. The third timer missed the start.

The recognized world record for the event is 20.6 held by Ray Norton of San Jose State.

Tidwell's mark will go down as an American record.

Jones, the country's No. 1 hurdler, swept home with a 13.6 clocking in the Quantico relays in his first outdoor performance of the year. This was the fastest of 1960 for the dash triumph.

event and was only four-tenths of a second off Martin Lauer's world standard.

Nieder Wins

Bill Nieder and Dave Davis — two of the top shot putters in the world — met head to head in the Santa Barbara Easter relays. Nieder won the battle with a 63-1½ performance. Davis' best was 62-2½. In a Los Angeles meet Dallas Long of Southern California had a throw of 61-1½.

At the Arkansas relays in Fayetteville, Ark., Jim Graham easily won the pole vault with a 15-3½ effort. The Illinois sprint medley relay team turned in a 3:26.4 clocking in the same meet.

In addition to his 220-yard record, Tidwell reeled off a 9.4 100-yard dash. Eddie Southern of Abilene Christian, who was second in the 1956 Olympic 400 meters, hit 29.8 for the 300 yards, tying Herb McKenley's American record for the distance.

Ollan Cassell of Houston had a 46.2 quarter-mile. Cal Doolan of Abilene Christian was clocked in 22.2 for the 220-yard low hurdles and teamed with Bill Woodhouse came through with a 10.2 100-meter dash triumph.

Food, Drug Administration Wages War on Prosperous Quack Market

By William F. Arbogast
Washington—If you ever tried turtle oil to iron out your wrinkles, used royal jelly to cure anything that ails you, or applied an electric shock to mend broken bones? If you have, you may be among the millions of Americans who shell out close to a billion dollars a year to medical and nutritional quacks.

The Food and Drug administration is conducting a running war against "literally thousands of medical quacks" and wants congress to put up more money to finance the fight.

Outlined Problems
George P. Larrick, head of the agency created to police the food and drug business, recently outlined his problems to a house appropriations subcommittee which published his testimony today.

While there has been no financial action, members indicated that they may approve the money request.

Larrick brought along some samples to back up his case. They included, among other things, a "hagi pipe" and a plastic bag into which a person suffering from muscle cramps sticks his head.

The "hagi pipe," made in Japan at a cost of 6 cents, was

Four of Family Drown In Mississippi Waters

Hayti, Mo.—Four members of a family perished Sunday when their boat capsized in wind-whipped Mississippi river floodwaters. They were returning to a farm house from Easter church services.

The victims were Mrs. Mary Green, 50, her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Madeline Green, 20, of St. Louis and Madeline's daughters, Debra Ann, 2, and Jerry Elaine, five months. Mrs. Mary Green's husband, Mack, 50, swam back to the bank.

High water from the Mississippi has flooded several hundred acres of land around the farm of the Mack Greens near here.

Jerry's body was recovered but the winds forced searchers to postpone their efforts to find the other victims.

The Law and You

New Law Will Limit Power Of Justice of Peace

The office known as "justice of the peace" was created by the English kings in the 14th century to secure greater control over local affairs. Early English justices of the peace were chiefly administrative officers, exercising no judicial functions but acting as peace conservators of the peace, as their name implied. Their powers were enlarged from time to time until they acquired the judicial duties which are their primary responsibility today in America.

Power Will Be Limited
Under the Wisconsin Constitution, each city, village and town is to have at least one justice, but the municipal governing body may create additional justices. Municipal boards may also create an office of police justice with the same duties and powers as regular justices, plus exclusive power to hear municipal ordinance violation actions. Any qualified elector of the town, city or village in which he resides is eligible to be a candidate for the office of justice of the peace. The term of office is two years.

In criminal matters, justices have the power to cause the laws for the preservation of the peace to be kept, to cause to come before them persons who are charged with committing any crime and commit them to jail or bail, and to try all charges for crimes arising within their counties, where the punishment does not exceed six months' imprisonment in the county jail or a fine of $200, or both.

A justice's civil jurisdiction is generally limited to cases where the amount of money claimed as damages or the value of the property involved does not exceed $200. He may hear and decide actions arising out of contract, actions for injuries to persons or to property, actions on installments as they become due on any written instrument, actions for unlawful detainer (eviction), garnishment actions and municipal ordinance violations, among others.

Justices are compensated by fees fixed by state law and are usually paid by the losing party. In criminal actions, if the defendant is acquitted or cannot pay the justice's fees, the county is liable for them.

The new court reorganization act, passed by the 1959 legislature, will drastically limit the jurisdiction of justices of the peace. Effective Jan. 1, 1962, justices will have criminal jurisdiction limited to battery and disorderly conduct. In civil actions they will have no jurisdiction over ordinance violations, unlawful detainer, garnishment or attachment. Under the new law, any city or village which is willing to pay a justice of the peace a salary, may provide for a "municipal justice of the peace" who will have the same jurisdiction as a police justice has today.

offered for sale at $2.40. Made of bamboo with a mouthpiece on one end, the pipe carried this claim: "Gospel to all smokers, hagi pipe to prevent lung cancer from smoking."

The directions for the plastic bag, which sold for a dollar, told the user to "stick your head down in the bag and exhale into it, and then breathe back your own breath." After doing that five times, the cramps were supposed to disappear.

Treatment from Afar
Another form of "medical hocus-pocus" is long-distance diagnosis and treatment of ailments. The patient sends a drop of blood on a blotter and gets a reply telling him what to do. One skeptical person sent in the blood from a rooster. The long-distance diagnosis was that the patient had "malaria and gonorrhea."

Nutritional quackery, Larrick estimated, costs an estimated 16 million Americans more than $500 million annually.

It involves promotion of "special" or "secret" formulas including such ingredients as blackstrap molasses, seaweed, or alfalfa. The makers claim that if the formulas are used properly they would cure or prevent cancer or graying hair. Some of the formulas sold for as much as $200 a year per person.

"Medical quackery is big business," Larrick informed the committee, with an estimated $250 million a year going into the pockets of the quacks.

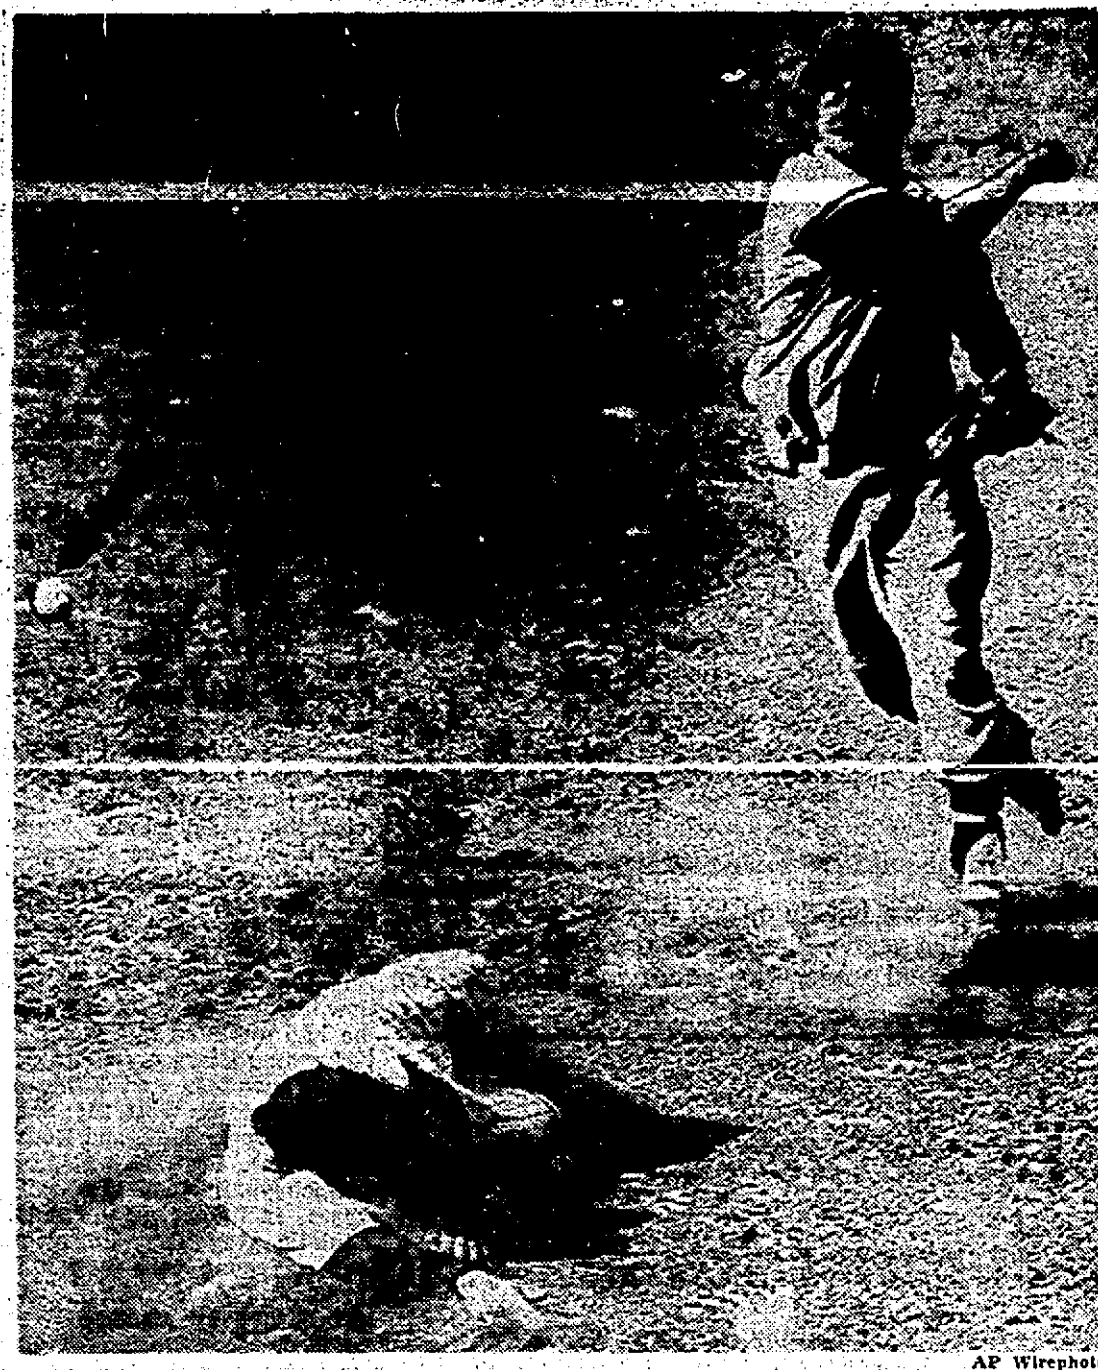

Big Vitamin Sale
One company, he said, sold vitamins on a yearly basis at a cost of $198 per person and grossed $25 million a year. Its product was supposed to be "helpful for golfer, kidney trouble, heart pain, broken bones, childbirth, paralysis and deafness."

He told of another "doctor" who cleaned up by selling an antibiotic developed from soil dug up on his back yard. It was supposed to cure cancer.

Purveyors of turtle oil preparations claim its use will bring about "miraculous rejuvenation." The theory is that if the oil keeps turtles living to a ripe old age, it ought to be good for humans.

"Royal jelly is supposed to be good for everything that ails you," Larrick said.

Royal jelly, he explained, is a secretion made by worker bees and fed to the queen bee who invariably is larger and leads a better life. If it can do that for a bee, why not for a man, its sponsors hope.

Johnny Logan, Milwaukee shortstop, relays a throw to first base, attempting to complete a double play in the eighth inning of Sunday's game in Philadelphia. Al Dark was forced at second when Red Schoendienst flipped to Logan. The shortstop's throw to first baseman Ray Boone was not in time, however. The Braves won, 8-4.

Landmark Lacks Moss

Lawrence College Rock Is 65, But It Probably Won't Retire

By Marguerite Schumann
The Lawrence college rock, a stone that has been rolled so much it has gathered not so much as a tuft of moss, is 65 years old this spring.

That is, it has been 65 years in residence as a campus landmark. Geologists are of the opinion that it is closer to a billion years old than 65.

There was a time when the boulder was identified by some such phrase as "the rock out in front of Main hall," but that was true only during its adolescent years on the campus. Now it is a campus game to move the rock by stealth. For the last 20 years it has roved, to the delight of local wrecking-truck owners who pick up $10 every time they pick up the rock and haul it to another spot in the moonlight.

Found by Senior Class
The rock's arrival on the campus was described by A. Arthur Bennett:

"One day in the spring of 1895 Professor Nicholson took the senior class on a geological expedition. They went by train and bicycle over to New London and visited that high bluff east of the city, the one that stands out on the plain like a lump of loaf sugar on a platter. (Mosquito hill). In riding out from the city to the bluff this 4-ton granite pebble was noticed lying on the side of the road. (It is also part of campus tradition to exaggerate the weight of the rock.) Several of the class thought it would be a fine memorial of the occasion if it could be transferred to the campus. A dray was secured, and with considerable help, the stone was brought to the city and placed on a flat car that it might be shipped to Appleton.

"The unveiling of the stone was an event of importance, at least to the '95ers. We gathered about our pebble in all our senior dignity, sang our dedicatory ode and listened to some very fine oratory.

Becomes Effeminate
"From that day to this the stone has served as common property for all classes. To the '95ers it stood for strength, endurance, service. But since our day it seems to have become somewhat effeminate due to the several coats of paint on its face.

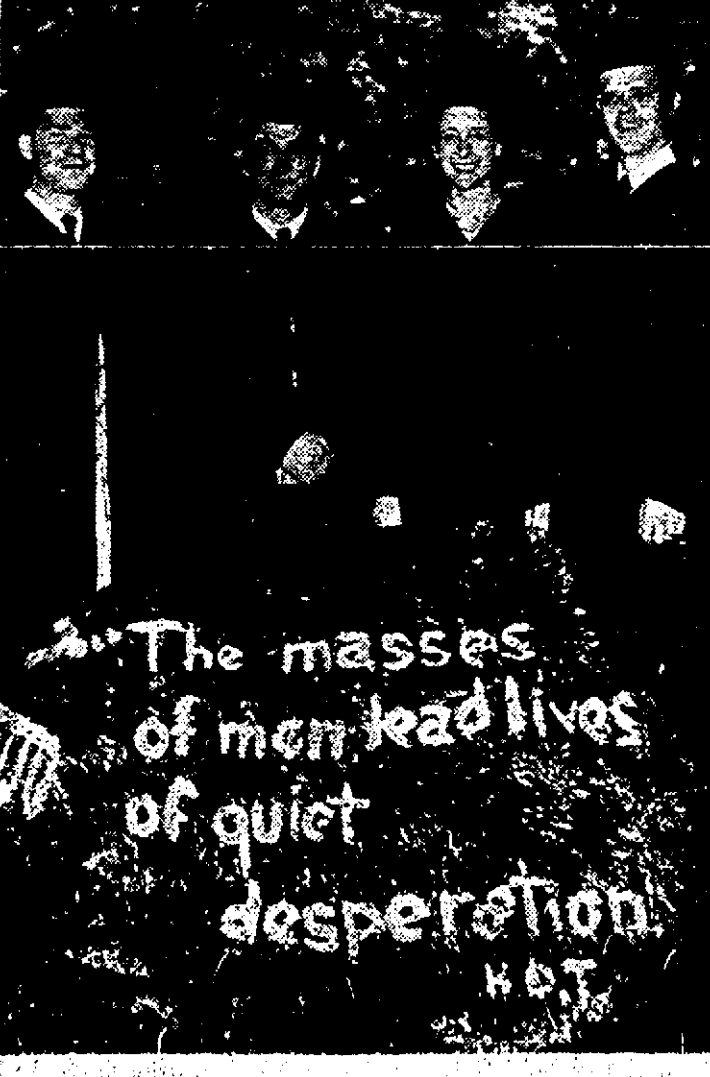

"An illustration of the unkindly treatment the stone has had to bear happened soon after the stone was placed. We seniors were taking a written quiz under Dr. Samuel Plantz. One of the boys asked the president if he would promise us our degrees provided we passed satisfactorily.

"Oh, said the doctor, as he shook with laughter, your degree is out on your stone. Imagine, if you can, our indignation when we, after finishing the quiz, visited the stone. Some miscreant had put up with clay the first two chiseled letters of 'Class' and had added the letters 'es.' But we forgave them. They didn't know any better."

Papered, Cartooned
In the intervening years, the rock has been drenched with every color of the rainbow, including gold, polka dots, patterns of hearts, flowers and Christmas devices. Once it was even wall-papered. By far the most artistic message it has displayed was an original cartoon by Win Jones, creator of a family of figures called Orts, with which it was decorated the morning of his commencement. It was deposited in front of Memorial union for the admiration of campus guests. Footprints painted on the sidewalk led up to and away from the rock—a final touch of the fey Jones humor which had entertained

The Lawrence College Rock, which has been receiving coats of paint from undergraduates for 65 years, is shown with two of its memorable decorations. Above is a cartoon drawn on the rock on commencement morning, 1956, by Win Jones, whose art work has since appeared in national magazines. Below is a Henry David Thoreau quotation placed on the stone commencement morning, 1951, with the four summa cum laude graduates of that year drawn up in intellectual ranks behind it. Among the graduates was Eugene Piette, formerly of Appleton, now of Neenah, second from left.

Your Money's Worth

Business Letters Cost Big Money

BY SYLVIA PORTER
During the past six weeks I've received four letters from a top executive of a big industrial corporation commenting in detail on a number of varying degrees of acidity on some of my recent reports. I've just made a rough calculation that each of his letters to me cost his company at least $5 — and perhaps triple that if he's as expensive an executive as I suspect he is.

In this period I've answered each of his letters with a short "thank - you - but - I - think - you're - wrong - cordially." Succinct as my answers have been, I've just estimated that each has cost me a minimum of $3 and maybe twice as much.

For the average cost of an average business letter written in our country today has hit an all-time high of $1.83 according to a new breakdown of business letter expenses by the Dartnell Office Administration service of Chicago. This is 56 per cent more than that same business letter cost as recently as 1953.

Startling though that $1.83 statistic is, I think it's modest for most business offices. For it assumes the person dictating the letter gets only an average sales correspondent's salary, the stenographer typing it gets only an average starting salary, the costs of materials used are only average, etc. In the vast majority of U.S. offices, "average" is a slippery word applying to someone else's firm. I may be ultra-conservative even with my estimates of $3-$15 for each of his letters and $3-plus for each of mine.

Whatever the statistic, it represents an expense most business firms could cut without any trouble.

The fact is that the typical U.S. business firm sends out thousands of letters in a normal year. When you tag each at $2 to $3, this, as Dartnell says, "becomes a cardinal part of the budget."

Many Unnecessary
The fact is that many of the letters are utterly unnecessary, and, as a spokesman for Dartnell remarked, when they recognize the direct and indirect costs involved, certain concerns undoubtedly could curb excessive costs with only a bit more attention to their letters.

And the fact is that costs of business letters are not going to level off. Office salaries are rising steadily. Postal rates are heading up. "By the end of 1960," says Dartnell, "another few cents will most assuredly be tacked on to the average cost per letter."

But the cost of each letter can be slashed by some common sense procedures. Here's how Dartnell takes chunks out of that $1.83:

Write Shorter Letters
Dictator's time, figured at $10 for a 40-hour week and an average of seven minutes for each letter; can be cut 10 per cent by shorter letters and use of dictating machines.

Stenographic cost, figured at $73 for a 40-hour week and an average of 20 letters a day; can be cut thirty-three and one-third per cent by centralization of typing, use of efficiency desks, chairs, electric typewriters.

Cost of materials, such as stationery, carbon papers, the like; can be cut 5 per cent by use of better quality paper but smaller sizes where possible, more economical printing.

Mailing costs can be cut 20 per cent by use of modern machines, not only to save labor, but to reduce losses due to pilfering of stamps.

With other savings in filing, fixed charges, Dartnell calculates that over 45 cents can be cut out of the $1.83.

And even if you don't follow these money-saving hints, awareness of what each letter costs should make you consider carefully the number and length of the ones you write. You might achieve the greatest savings by not writing letters that should not be written anyway.

Possible Welding Accident Causes Fire in Freedom

Freedom—A fire apparently connected with welding operations caused about $300 damage in the garage at the Leo Dietrich farm in the town of Freedom Saturday afternoon.

Fire Chief Ed Vandenberg said Curly Foster, who occupies the Dietrich farm, was welding just before he took his wife shopping. About 15 minutes after they left, Mrs. Hermen Hersent noticed the garage fire and drove to the fire hall to report it.

Grass fires Friday spread the town firemen's interests. Friday morning a fire was reported at the Cliff Bowers farm in the town of Center and in the afternoon the firemen fought a grass fire at the Charles Kropp farm in Van's valley, town of Oneida.

The Bowers fire threatened out buildings but was extinguished before it could do any damage. The Kropp fire threatened Immaculate Conception church and a stand of pines, but was extinguished before doing damage. Each burned over three to four acres of grass land.

Quill and Scroll Speaker Named

Kaukauna—Tony Ingrassia a member of the Milwaukee Sentinel sports staff, will speak at the annual Quill and Scroll dinner sponsored by the Kaukauna Lions club April 28 at the Elks clubrooms.

High school journalists will receive Quill and Scroll keys and pins.

Construction of a New Water intake-system has started at the Thilmann Pulp and Paper company, Kaukauna, as the mill hopes to increase water intake to meet increased production demands. The crane is shown at the start of a trench digging operation which will ultimately extend 750 feet to the Fox river.

7 Lettermen On Kimberly Baseball Team

Papermakers Open Loop Campaign at Shawano Saturday

Kimberly — Seven lettermen form the nucleus of the Kimberly High school baseball team which will open Mid-Eastern conference action at Shawano, Saturday.

Coach Jim Nirschl has a veteran to insert at almost all positions but is searching for relief pitching to take the load off Jeff Vander Velden.

Lettermen include Vander Velden, Dave Minten, catcher; Don Hearden, short stop; Jim Siebers, second base; Jerry Binsfeld, first base; Jim Peerenboom, third base and Tom Peerenboom, outfielder.

Back as Senior — Dick Bonzelet, a letterman as a sophomore, is back as a senior after sitting out last season due to illness.

Promising newcomers include Tim Jury, pitcher and outfielder; Allan Schmidt, pitcher; Jim Rennebohm, infielder; Rick Polman, infielder and Allan Hietspas, outfielder.

In two non-conference games, the Papermakers have come out on the short end. They were stopped by Hortonville and Freedom of the Little Nine conference.

The spring schedule has Kimberly at Shawano Saturday, Clintonville, here, April 28; Kaukauna, there April 29; Menasha, here, May 3; Two Rivers, here, May 6; New London, there, May 10 and Neenah, here, May 13.

Vehicles Damaged by Hit and Run Driver

KHS Speakers to Appear in NFL District Test

Kaukauna — Five Kaukauna High school students will enter National Forensic League district competition at Ripon Friday and Saturday.

Approximately 150 students are expected for the 2-day tournament conducted under the direction of the college speech department. Students will stay at Green Lake. The tournament will consist of six rounds of speaking, an individual having to be defeated twice before being eliminated.

Participating in original oratory will be Lynn Gerend and Dwight Bastian while Joanne Haen will be entered in oratorical interpretation. Schools are permitted only one contestant in this bracket.

DeLyle Bowers will be entered in boys' extemporaneous speaking and Lynn Gerend will be represented in the dramatic interpretation division. Both Bastian and Miss Pechman received A ratings in the state forensic competition.

Joe Steger, Sr., 569; Frank Weeks, 563 and Bob Derus, 558.

Utility Seeks Bids on Water Main Projects

Quotations Asked On Insurance to be Reviewed May 4

Kaukauna — The utility commission is accepting sealed bids for the installation of ea on Sixteenth and Seventeenth streets from Sullivan to Hendricks avenue and on Welhouse drive in the Jonen-Biese addition, according to Ranquette.

Bids will be accepted until 4 p.m., May 4, by William Ranquette, utility manager. Work is to include transporting pipe from the yard in the furnishing of machinery breakdown insurance with the work, excavate, lay and connect pipe, including the valves and backfill.

The contractor must do all the work and furnish and operate all machinery while the utility will furnish materials. The trench is to be dug suitable for five and one-half foot of cover with the utility to test pipe before backfilling. Work will be carried out between May 15 and Nov. 1.

Areas already earmarked for water main installation are in the Glenview acres are on Sixteenth and Seventeenth streets from Sullivan to Hendricks avenue and on Welhouse drive in the Jonen-Biese addition, according to Ranquette.

Insurance Bids — At the same time the utility commission will study bids for the furnishing of machinery breakdown insurance with

Circulate Petition For Curb, Gutter

Little Chute — A petition for curb and gutter on S. Wilson street will probably be filed with the village board at the regular meeting at 8 p.m. Tuesday.

The petition was circulated among property owners on the street last week and at last report all but three had signed.

Schools Try to Avoid Making U. S. a Nation of Copycats

People Becoming More and More Alike in Many Ways

BY DONALD C. BAUDER

Madison — Make no mistake about it, people in this country are becoming more and more alike, but we're not necessarily a nation of conformists.

And it will be a major task of American schools to make sure that we continue to move toward the democratic goal of giving opportunity to everyone — without making us a nation of singing copy-cats.

These are the opinions of two University of Wisconsin scholars, Prof. Norman B. Ryder, department of sociology, and Prof. Donald Thomas, school of education, who have collaborated in reporting on American population trends and their implications for our educational goals.

Observes Prof. Ryder, "We are becoming more and more like one another all the time, more and more homogeneous, and more similar in big and little ways. Persistently, in every way measurable, our people are converging on a common way of life."

This is the first of a series of three articles written by the University of Wisconsin News Service. Other articles will deal with the effects of population mobility and the birth rate on education.

Ryder says, that, more and more, we are:

Now Many Wear FALSE TEETH With More Comfort

FASTTEETH, a pleasant alkaline (non-acid) powder, holds false teeth more firmly. To eat and talk in more comfort, just sprinkle a little FASTTEETH on your plates. No gummy, sticky taste or feeling. Checks "plate color" (denture breath). Get FASTTEETH at any drug counter.

man Catholics and Protestants are supposed to differ most sharply, for example, in attitude toward fertility, and its regulation, but the average sizes of Protestant and Roman Catholic families are now almost the same.

Less Important

"The most significant observation about Protestants and Roman Catholics in the United States is that they are both predominantly American, and the religious differential is becoming steadily less important.

"And even the largest division in American culture, between white and Negro, is slowly becoming a little smaller. For example, in the past 20 years the proportion of young people enrolled in school went from 80 per cent to 90 per cent for whites, but from 70 per cent to nearly 90 per cent for Negroes.

"Whites and Negroes are showing more similarity socially, economically, politically, and in geographical distribution. And the difference between white and Negro in length of life in the past 30 years has been reduced from 14 to 7 years."

Ryder comments, "The trend toward convergence I would interpret as an essential part of the evolution of a modern democratic society. These are statistics in which we can take great pride."

But how are we going to fulfill this democratic goal without being conformists?

Have Answer

Says Prof. Thomas, "The schools already possess the answer. Over the years, the schools have been forced by the age of specialization to offer the most comprehensive, individual - oriented educational program ever attempted by any nation.

"The schools must continue to give diversified educational programs which are concerned with the care and feeding of individual differences. But equality of educational opportunity can go berserk without a hierarchy of values to impose upon individual choices. For example, it is absurd to say that all students are intellectually equal."

"In some yet undiscovered way, schools must offer a measure of security and common cultural affiliation to all individuals without violating the essential uniqueness of each," Thomas says.

"Place this challenge next to the staggering enrollment increases, the growing teacher shortage, the unparalleled competition for the tax dollar, and a fantastically mobile population in a magnificently complex technological society, and one must conclude that education faces the most exciting years of its existence."

Contest Assured For Democratic Committee Post

Milwaukee — A contest has been assured for the post of Democratic national committeeman from Wisconsin at the annual party convention in Milwaukee June 24-26.

National Committeeman Herman F. Jessen, Phelps, announced his candidacy for reelection Saturday after David Rabinovitz, Sheboygan, said he would run for the post.

Mrs. Vel Phillips, Milwaukee, plans to seek reelection but has no announced opposition yet. Four women, however, are considered as possible candidates against her. They include Mrs. Marguerite R. Benson, Mrs. Edire Kitzman and Mrs. Rose Grobe, all of Milwaukee, and Mrs. Elaine Smith, Baraboo.

Mrs. Phillips was elected national committeewoman in two years ago to succeed Mrs. Betty Graichen of Coloma for the balance of the 4-year term. Mrs. Graichen resigned when she left the state. Mrs. Phillips defeated Mrs. Benson 507-447 and became the first Negro ever elected a national committeewoman. Rabinovitz was elected as a delegate pledged to Sen. John F. Kennedy in Wisconsin's presidential primary April 5. Jessen is a supporter of Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.).
